WARRIOR WILLIAM BOLT of the City's Anti-Pigeon Corps descends from rooftop of Cornet Store, 250 N. 2nd Ave., Upland, after laying out another batch of Council-ordered poison feed for the pesky birds. Heavy spring rains delayed the all-out battle which is now in full swing. "We've found a few dead ones," Bolt said, "but there's no telling how many fly away to die."

FOUR FEATHERED FIGHTERS, pictured on the corner of the same roof shortly after Bolt's mission (see other caption), seem undisturbed by the municipal attack. In fact, if anything, their legions seem to be mounting — perhaps indicating the need for a switch in Council tactics.

City Renews Civic Center Struggle And Sets Date For RR Spur Referendum Election

Downtown Site Still Questioned

"What is Upland?"

That basic question was posed several times Monday night by Ted Adsit, the high-priced, highly effective planning and development specialist from Corona Del Mar, as he sought to guide the many-membered Citizens' Civic Center Committee through its first formal session at City Hall.

Adsit apparently felt a definitive answer to his query might point the way to what Upland should become in the future. The answer never came, however, as the spirited committeemen sparred for nearly three hours, so he now must wait until the second go-round, scheduled for 7 p.m. Monday, May 24.

At the request of Richard Holdaway, one of 20 CCCC members (from a total of 33) who answered Councilman George Gibson's initial call, specific data in support of the downtown Civic Center site will be provided prior to the next meeting. "We need it before we can proceed in orderly fashion," Holdaway said.

Frank Carpenter, supported most vocally by fellow committeemen Paul Hottel and Oda Fretwell, argued that the question of the site wasn't at issue. "The site has been decided by the City Council," Carpenter contended. "We should go from that point and get the job done."

Gibson, agreeing that there really was no dispute over the site, also agreed to satisfy Holdaway's request with facts and figures. "We must convince all the members that the choice was a good one," the committee chairman stated. "Then, if some of you can't work for the committee, you ought to get off."

Thus, the only motion of the evening — Vern Orum's suggestion that the group endorse wholeheartedly Council's site selection — died before reaching vote stage. "Put it off until our next session," said T. A. Lynch, "so we can be given a CLOSE CALL HAD BY ALL — Police investigators said 37-year-old Harry Frakes and several youngsters were "lucky" to get out of this demolished station wagon with minor bruises after it quick-flipped on C St. Monday afternoon. Frakes, 924 E. Arrow Hwy., Upland, was eastbound on C and, according to police, failed to yield right-of-way at 3rd Ave. Instead, they said, he shot across 3rd in front of northbound Ralph Mekus, 40, of Cucamonga, whose right front bumper barely caught the back of Frakes' vehicle, causing the freak turnover. Mekus sustained only fender damage.

Foes Pledge Court Case To Test Council Action

The Upland City Council voted unanimously Tuesday night on a motion directing City Clerk Bonita Hunt to contact the County Registrar of Voters regarding the setting up of an election in response to a petition for referendum.

In so directing, Council set the special election for Tuesday, July 13, subject to County approval of the date. That would put it within 60 to 75 days following Tuesday's decision, as required by law.

Some 2,000 registered Upland voters, organized by the Upland Home Association, signed the petition. It requested the referendum election, aimed at reversing a Council ordinance granting the Santa Fe Railroad a franchise to cross streets in Foothill Knolls subdivision and thereby extend a spur track.

Before Council made its 4-0 move Tuesday (Councilman Abner Haldeman was absent), City Atty. Donald Maroney offered the members his opinion on the subject, based on information provided by the League of California Cities and his own legal research since April 6.

"I have the feeling the right of referendum does not exist in this situation," Maroney said. "However, there's enough doubt to make me believe a test case could result in a 4-3 Supreme Court decision."

Stressing that the signatures of 2,000 citizens cannot be ignored, the City Attorney advised the Councilmen "to continue as if it's a good referendum." He said, "Then, if opponents sue, we'll have a test case and a decision which will stand for many cities."

Atty. George Crowe of Ontario, representing the Santa Fe and the Pacific Rock Co., which the proposed spur would serve, immediately told Council that his clients will seek a restraining order to deny the election until the issue can be resolved by Superior Court. "The Court should decide if a referendum is allowable in this instance," Crowe said.

Cornered by newsmen, Maroney later explained that a restraining order could well delay the election for months while the Superior Court acted on such a test case. If so, he conceded, a special bond election for the Civic Center could be squeezed in before it, thus delaying the referendum vote at least another six months, the time required between special elections.

Crowe, an Ontario Councilman, suggested the possibility of scheduling the two elections at the same time, if the Court should rule in favor of the petitioners with dispatch, but Uplanders on both sides of the fence are adamantly opposed to such a dual proposition on two difficult questions.

Councilman James Christensen, who motioned for the election procedure (it was seconded by Councilman George Gib-

All You Can Eat, So ALL Can Play

Upland's only benefit baseball breakfast—for support of the American Little League — will be held from 7 to 11 a.m. Saturday, May 15, at Memorial Park.

"We'd like to see this a really big affair, with a great turnout of fans," Howard Weeks, league president, commented. "Everyone's invited, whether affiliated with other leagues or not."

Weeks said 50-cent donations for the meal may be given for tickets at Ralph's Sporting Goods or to any ALL player, manager or coach. Proceeds will aid an eight-team, 120-boy loop.

Opening games are scheduled for 6 p.m. Monday, May 10, at Olivedale Park, 8th St. between Sultana and Campus Aves.

NEWS, TRIB Win Press Awards

Competing against the cream of the crop in San Bernardino and Riverside Counties, THE NEWS and the MONTCLAIR TRIBUNE and their staffers have emerged from the 1965 Twin Counties Press Club Awards Contest with enough citations to paper a wall.

The awards, for entries published in 1964, were distributed to daily and weekly newspapermen, photographers, public relations directors and radio representatives Saturday night at the club's annual banquet in Rialto.

In the coveted "Editorial Citation" category, given only "to a paper exposing conditions demanding attention in the public interest," THE NEWS and TRIB tied for third place. Valley Publication's Independent Press won in that category, with the Riverside Press-Enterprise taking second.

THE NEWS earned its citation for a hard-hitting series of editorials demanding changes in Upland City Hall—changes which the voters made at the polls in April, 1964. The TRIB was cited for exposing inequities of the Monte Vista Water and Fire Districts.

For "Best Front Page" among non-dailies of over 2,000 circulation, the TRIB ranked second and THE NEWS third behind the March Air Force Beacon. For "Best Editorial Page" among the same competition, THE NEWS finished third behind the Chino Champion and Norton AFB Newscone.

Walt Orvis, whose "File 13" is published on the editorial page, took home $25 in first prize money for "Best Local Column" written by a non-daily employe. Al McCombs of the Champion and Ken Boucher of the Sun City News earned second and third place money, respectively.

Orvis' witty and common sense-filled column which brought him the prize was concerned with the agonies and ecstacies experienced by parents as they prepare their five-year-old for his kindergarten baptismal.

In another individual category, Ace Bushnell won a $25 first place for "Best Headline" of 1964. Pamela Hallan of the Press-Enterprise and Jim Tillinghast of the San Bernardino Sun-Telegram were the runners-up.

Bushnell's winning head, which appeared in THE NEWS, was a one-column, four-word double-entendre effort composed to add a bit of life to an otherwise routine item about the Upland Coin Club's annual installation of officers. It read: Coin Club Flips Heads.

Steve Haisman, a Cal Poly senior who served as a student journalism intern with THE NEWS during the past school year, picked up $5 for third place in the "Best Feature Story" category among non-daily employes. He tailed McCombs of the Champion and Jerry Boyd of the Highland Messenger.

CofC May Grow 25% In 90 Days

New Mgr. Tony Malone thinks the Upland Chamber of Commerce is "in a healthy situation" and, spurred by that feeling of well-being, has predicted a membership increase of "at least 25 per cent" in the next 90 days.

The hustling manager, in office only a month, made his prediction Tuesday morning at the May meeting of the Chamber Board of Directors at the Upland Inn. Afterwards, confirming the figure, he said it represented "more than 30 new members."

The Directors unanimously endorsed a new version of the Chamber's old membership brochure, reflecting changes in the fair share dues formula which were effected in April. Members will receive the brochures when billed for their annual dues at the new rates in June and July.

Also, Malone showed them copies of an orientation pamphlet, describing what a Chamber of Commerce does, how it gets things done, how it is financed and why a community needs one. He said the pamphlets will be mailed with the brochures.

Praising the orientation presentation, prepared by the California Association of Chamber of Commerce Managers, Malone explained, "It gives you a track to run on . . it provides fuel for us to use to increase our membership."

The next step, the manager said, is for him to confer with Charles Gehrken, membership chairman, and plan "a hard-sell campaign, if we can call it that." He asked for the Directors' opinion of a membership breakfast, aimed at new businesses, before the annual Chamber banquet next month.

Gehrken led the Directors in recommending such an immediate project, suggesting

Upland Village Shopping Center Under Way

Three months behind their originally announced schedule, but "just delighted to be in business," the partners of Upland Village Co. this past week broke ground and began construction on the $1.25 million shopping center on Foothill Blvd.

Upland Mayor Max Hawkins turned the first shovelful of dirt last Friday afternoon, with a number of interested well-wishers on hand to lend him moral support (see accompanying photo).

By making a financial deadline of April 30, the company helped City building valuations from tumbling back down to their mid-winter slump level. The big boost from UVC sent the month's totals zooming to a 1965 high of $1,810,876.12.

Located on the north side of Foothill, just east of Euclid Ave. and facing toward N. 2nd Ave., the Upland Village Shopping Center will include initially over 77,000 square feet of sales space and will provide parking for more than 500 cars.

Principal tenants at the outset will be Safeway supermarkets, 22,500 square feet; Thrifty Drug, 20,000 (one of the largest drug stores in the chain); and Coronet Variety, 15,000.

There also will be ample room for a bank, clothing stores and service shops—aimed at providing a one-stop shopping facility for the Foothill area and the entire valley.

Ralph H. Miller of the Miller-Brannan real estate organization, responsible for negotiations which led to leasing of the key property by the company, said UVC would like very much to land "a major department store, for which we have space and hopes."

The buildings, designed by Lorand West, AIA, Los Angeles, are to be constructed of steel and concrete with a new system of canopy arches to add beauty of design and protection for shoppers. The architectual design also provides for an expensive and beautiful marble veneer to make this one of the most distinctive shopping centers in the Southland.

Rosedales Nursery, Inc., now located just west of the UVC property, is planning newly-designed buildings to be erected on the east end of the shopping center. Well-planned landscaping will be planted in order to add to the beauty of the entire project.

Emory C. Jackson, contractor, of Ontario, expects to complete construction during the month of October of this year.

The Upland Village Company, owner, is composed of the following local people: John Kamp, Mark Alexander and Miller; also, Nick Smits and Mel Vander Molen of Artesia; Peter Gorzeman of Cypress; James Fain of Los Angeles; and Robert Meierding of West Covina.

Dyal Hopes To Hold County's West End

Our man in Washington, Congressman Ken W. Dyal of the massive 33rd District, doesn't want to lose the flourishing West End when the reapportionment chips are down —"but my hands may be forced."

In an exclusive telephonic interview with THE NEWS, the first-year Representative from San Bernardino County said this past week, "I am hopeful of holding as much of my County as I can under the rule. Much will depend on what happens in Los Angeles."

Happenings in Los Angeles County are what prompted THE NEWS to seek out Dyal for comment. From a well-informed source, this newspaper had learned that Congressmen representing the east sections of Los Angeles County are eying Upland and environs hungrily.

THE NEWS had learned as recently as last week that at least one Representative of eastern Los Angeles County felt certain he was destined to acquire the West End of this County.

"Nothing is certain at this point," Dyal assured. "We've had two or three California delegation meetings already on the Celler Bill. In fact, we just met today (Friday) and briefly reapportionment was the main subject."

Under the aforementioned "rule," a satisfactory district would be one of 413,000 population, with a 15 per cent variation either up or down. "If the bill passes, I must obey the law and bring my area down," Dyal said.

If the 33rd District's population exceeds 475,000, which would seem likely, "I must lop off something most contiguous and compact," the Congressman observed. "Would it be Redlands? Or the desert area? Or the West End? It would be one of them, obviously."

Dyal stressed that the "legislators are looking closely" at reapportionment and its ramifications. "There's lots of talk," he said, "but we expect nothing sudden."

The California delegation's "mood is friendly," according to Dyal. "The members are bipartisan in this matter. They are desirous of not hurting one another."

Will the West End inherit a Pasadena Republican in exchange for Democrat Dyal? As of this writing, not even our man in Washington has the answer.

Fourth place was awarded to Michael Cinnamon, 13, eighth grade, article division.

TIME TO RISE AND SHINE — Getting ready rapidly for Saturday's open house at the Upland Fire Station are Capt. Charles Clark (on ground) and Engr. Jay Rowberry.

UFD Open House Saturday

The Upland Fire Department will observe Fire Services Day on Saturday, May 8.

An open house at the fire station, 159 D St., will feature tours of the station, demonstrations and movies. All interested persons are heartily welcomed to come see the facilities.

The open house tours will be run from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p.m.

Fire Services Day as such has been proclaimed statewide by the governor and its purpose is to acquaint the tax-paying public with one of the departments of city government which is purely a service to the people.

Fire Chief Leon Lamphear says that you will be welcome to come in and spend a few minutes to meet some of your fine firemen, or come and stay as long as you wish.

Parents are encouraged to bring their children as the program which will be going on continually will have something of interest for young and old.

Medical Missionary From Africa To Visit Presbyterian Women

When they meet Thursday, May 6, the Women's Association of the Upland First Presbyterian Church will be privileged to hear Mrs. Dale G. Foster, a medical missionary from the Federal Republic of Cameroun, Africa. Mrs. Robert L. Jones will preside as president at the meeting in Hart Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. Foster and her husband, Dr. Foster, who is a surgeon and the director of the Sakbayeme Hospital, have served since 1952 as medical missionaries at this United Presbyterian mission hospital.

This hospital is the second largest in size and equipment of the Presbyterian mission hospitals in Africa. It has a staff of 30 medical assistants and 20 nurses' aides, and is very active in the training of these assistants and aides. Many of them come with only a grade school education and stay as apprentices for many years of training, carrying much of the burden of the medical work in this area.

This hospital handles 2,000 in-patients and 12,000 out-patients each year as well as doing work in the leper colonies.

Since this association will be studying many of the countries of Africa this fall during its mission study, Mrs. Foster will bring an important and first-hand insight into the situations and problems there. This is the first time the group has had a speaker direct from their African mission field. Any and all who are interested are urged to come and hear her.

Rev. C. Richard Mitchell will continue the Galatians Bible study in the Choir Room at 11 a.m. The regular Thursday morning prayer group will meet for this week with the Tuesday group at 9:30 a.m. in the Fireside Room.

The 12 noon luncheon will be served by Circle 7, with Mrs. Lowell Donnell as chairman and Mrs. Kenneth Gordon as local church service chairman. The African theme will be carried out in the table decorations.

There is an urgent call for green stamp books or loose stamps to be used to get a school bus for the Mary Holmes College in Mississippi, a college for Negro youth. Anyone who has stamps should bring them to the luncheon or to the church office.

The May Fellowship of the United Church Women will meet at 10 a.m. Friday, May 7, at the First Methodist Church in Ontario, with a luncheon at 12 noon. Reservations were to be made by Wednesday, May 5, through Mrs. W. K. Fuller at YU 2-0395.

200 Parents Attend Honors Fete

Plenty Of Frosting On The Cake At AL Junior High Dessert Program

Alta Loma Junior High School in its first honors program gave 46 awards Friday night for achievement in the areas of student services, music and athletics.

The dessert program was attended by more than 200 parents.

For more than 60 years, Alta Loma School District maintained grades K-8 in one school. In 1963, Carnelian School was opened for grades 1-5. In early 1964, Philip Capen was named principal of Alta Loma Junior High School which yet occupies classrooms in Alta Loma School as bids are being called for construction of the new junior high facility on Beryl Ave.

Capen, a 1933 alumnus of Alta Loma School, spoke stressing all areas of achievement in the development of the whole man. He noted that Alta Loma Junior High School Band has gained nearly top honors in all competitive events this year.

The school honors all band members who have completed three semesters of outstanding musicianship and are recommended by their director, Wesley Hawks, for school letters and certificates of achievement in music.

Musicians honored were Richard Baker, Damon Bangle, Kathy E. Bell, Richard W. Billings, Anita E. Michael, Deborah J. Spiker, Rodney Stevens and Kevin M. Swenson.

A challenge to athletes to strive for a high level of achievement in scholarship was issued by featured speaker Gus Rischer. Rischer is director of student activities at Alta Loma High School. He retired from active coaching this year after bringing two league championships to ALHS in its first two years of interscholastic basketball competition.

Rischer swamped the misconception of good athletes being mentally dense. He tolled off the enviable list of varsity basketball players winning Academic scholarships this year. They include John Morris, who boasts a nearly straight "A" average throughout his high school career.

Don Rose, basketball coach, spoke highly of the young athletes who in their first year of competition captured a co-championship with Upland Junior High School of the "B" League, Foothill JHS League, and third place trophy in the annual Upland Invitational Junior High School Tournament, playing against "A" class teams.

Selected as most valuable player by a vote of his teammates was Rodney Stevens, team captain. Stevens also received a music letter and serves as ALJHS Student Body president.

Free throw award honors for the highest average percentage achieved in all interscholastic competition went to Jesse Loebach, team co-captain, and V. Bobby Escobar. Both players made 63 per cent of all free throws attempted in games.

Coaches' award, given the athlete who most inspired his teammates by his self-improvement, coachability, diligence and attitude, went to Lance Montee. Montee started the season on the fifth string and rose to play a major role in winning the "B" League co-championship and placing third in the annual Upland tournament.

Team captains Stevens and Juan Rojelio Oliva were awarded team captain trophies.

Letters and certificates of achievement in athletics were awarded to Thomas L. Baker, co-captain, R. Joel Beckley, William C. Beckley, Leonard G. Brotzman, Patrick N. Bryan, Mark A. Butters, George V. Evans, V. Bobby Escobar, Brian D. Holley, Michael E. Le Roy, George Livingston, Jesse L. Loebach, co-captain, Jeffery J. Masters, Timothy W. Masters, Ysidro P. Monge, Lance E. Montee, Robert Nau, Juan Rejelio Oliva, captain, William L. Overton, Donald M. Rasmussen, John R. Stephens, Rodney Stevens, captain, Mark Sumner, Thomas D. Vath, Guy Wilson, Robert Cornejo and Dwayne Whitfield. Similar awards were made to James E. Brown and Ronald G. Gill, managers, and Kathy E. Bell, team statistician and manager.

The Warrior basketball team boasts as members Stevens, ALJHS Student Body president; Leonard Brotzman, Student Body vice president; and, George Livingston, Student Body treasurer. The only elected Student Body officer not represented is Eden Schmidt, secretary.

Letters and certificates of achievement in student services were presented to cheerleaders Kathleen Ann Bouch, Cathleen Jackson, Anita E. Michael, Deborah J. Spiker and Dianne Ryals.

Certificates of achievement in student services were presented to a flag-twirling unit comprised of Linda Buchanan, Bonnie Bartelt and Denise Gann.

Sparkling Cheryll Butters, fifth-grade student at Alta Loma School, entertained with a musical baton-dance routine. She received a special Certificate of Achievement in Student Services from the junior high school.

Basketball players and musicians flip-flopped the program by honoring coaches Rose, Capen and Gary Conner, ALHS varsity basketball player who was an assistant to the coaches, and Hawks, band director. Cheerleaders honored Pam Conner, ALHS cheerleader, who coached the girls, and Mrs. Charles Spiker, who made their costumes.

In attendance and introduced by Supt. Floyd Stork were Lloyd Michael and William Houtz, Alta Loma Board of Education members.

Camera Club To View Travelogs

Two color slide travelogs provided by the Photographic Society of America will be shown at the meeting of Euclid Avenue Camera Club at 7:30 p.m. Friday, May 7, according to Mrs. Marion Miller of Upland, program chairman.

The session will be held in the Faculty Lounge on the Chaffey High School campus and the tape-recorded programs are titled "Greece" and "Molds of the Sea."

Newly-elected officers will function for the first time at this session. They are Howard A. Cramer of Ontario, president; Mrs. Miller, vice president; Mr. and Mrs. William T. Wright, corresponding secretaries; Mrs. Brian Journeaux, recording secretary; Thayer Peters, treasurer, and Clarence Scott, Miss Evelyn Lowe and Harry Adams, directors.

TWO SAVVY SENIOR STUDENTS from Upland High School—Betty Long and Mike Cox—clutch book store gift certificates awarded to them for their prize-winning essays on "What Local Government Means To Me." Assistant to the City Mgr. Lee Travers, program chairman, handed out the awards April 28 at Uplander Motel luncheon during "Students Run the City Day," co-sponsored by the City and the Upland Rotary Club. Superior Court Judge Carl Hilliard was guest speaker.

Parent-Teacher Information Capsule Timely

The president of the 5th District, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, Mrs. Milton Van Voorhis, presided over the morning session of the Parent-Teacher Information Capsule held April 27 at Upland Elementary School Auditorium.

Officers of the 5th District, which covers all of San Bernardino County, made the morning enjoyable with their skit, "What Is Wrong With This Meeting." Purposely delayed was Mrs. Fred Peterson, District vice president from San Bernardino, who played the part of a unit PTA president.

Her board members consisted of the following: Mrs. Robert Murray, Fontana, past District president and present extension director; Mrs. Merico Zanella, Fontana, field service director; Mrs. Louis Lubinsky, Redlands, treasurer; Mrs. Lloyd Keller, San Bernardino, conference director; Mrs. Richard Tucker, past Ontario Council president and newly-elected 5th District officer; and Mrs. Jack Davis, Fontana, honorary life membership chairman.

The skit reportedly was hilarious, yet some board meetings have a close resemblance. At various intervals, Mrs. Van Voorhis would point out the mistakes to the assembled and correct them.

Mrs. Milton Fisher, president of the Foothill Council PTA, introduced the new Council president, Mrs. Briscoe Root, who will assume her duties after the May meeting. Mrs. Fisher welcomed the group and introduced Mrs. Elwood Chapman, Ontario Council president, and Mrs. Morris Plastings, Fontana Council president.

Richard R. Riley, principal of Upland Elementary School, extended a welcome to the parent-teacher members and invited them to visit the classrooms in observance of Public Schools Week.

Mrs. Thomas Lees, Foothill Council hospitality chairman, served coffee and punch at noon, assisted by Mrs. A. T. Arbezzi, publicity chairman, and Mrs. Fisher.

Mrs. C. W. Henry, San Bernardino, budget and finance officer for the District, presented a film on parliamentary procedure stressing Robert's Rules of Order. She brought out the fact that by-laws should be read at the first fall meeting as they govern each association.

Mrs. Van Voorhis and Mrs. Peterson conducted the afternoon session for presidents and vice-presidents, while Mmes. Henry, Lubinsky and Marshall Hansen, Bloomington, presided over the financial workshop.

This Parent-Teacher Information Capsule brought much knowledge to all who attended this day-long training conference conducted by the 5th District officers.

It was announced that delegates to the CCPT annual convention in San Diego from the Foothill Council area are: Mrs. Lawrence Ornelas, from Alta Loma Elementary PTA; Mrs. G. R. Stansbury, Carnelian PTA; Mrs. Victor Johnson, Upland Junior High; Mrs. Frank Kadunc, Alta Loma High; Mrs. J. W. Masters, Alta Loma Junior High, and Mrs. Fisher, Foothill Council.

The State convention is being held from May 4 to 7 at San Diego Convention Hall, Community Concourse.

Chaffey PTA Alters Date Of Meeting

Date for the regular meeting of the Chaffey PTA Board has been changed from the first Wednesday in May to Tuesday, May 11, due to the State PTA Convention being held this week according to Mrs. Edward J. Duffy, president.

This will enable Mrs. Frank Jones, president-elect, to be present for the final luncheon meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Vernon Stahl, 229 Caroline Ct., Ontario.

Attending the session and luncheon, beginning at 11 a.m., will be this year's executive board and chairman and the elected board members for next year.

Guest of honor for the occasion will be Mrs. John Northrup, secretary to Principal Ernest Payne, who is retiring in June. Mrs. Northrup has been very cooperative and helpful to Chaffey PTA for many years.

Rotary Party In Alta Loma On May 15

A Rotary-Roundup, complete with steak barbecue and square dancing, is scheduled for Saturday, May 15, at the Fred Mack Rancho in Alta Loma.

MR. AND MRS. GARY ALAN THRALL

West End Symphony Assn. Sets Annual Dinner May 12

Members of the West End Symphony Orchestra Association will hold their third annual dinner meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 12, at the Sycamore Inn. A social hour will precede the event.

Business at the session will include election of 13 new board members, and the reading of annual reports by Dr. William K. Haldeman of Upland, president, and Samuel Esrock of Ontario, treasurer.

Entertainment will be provided by Saul and Suzy Formmer of Colton, a folk dancing and singing team, who teach at the University of California at Riverside.

Mission Inn Wedding Unites The Gary Alan Thralls

The St. Francis of Assisi Chapel in the Mission Inn, Riverside was the setting for the April 14 wedding which united Miss Sharilyn June Newbold of Hollywood and Gary Alan Thrall of Upland.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. Richard Mitchell of the First Presbyterian Church of Upland.

The new Mrs. Thrall is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Newbold of Dearborn, Mich. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Thrall of Upland.

For her wedding, the bride chose a chantilly lace gown, fashioned with jewel neckline and bell-shaped floor length skirt with lace train. A circlet of lace and pearls held her shoulder-length bouffant illusion veil. She carried a single long stemmed white rose.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Gary Webber of Ontario, sister of the groom. Mrs. Webber wore a floor length gown of candlelight turquoise with a lace insert in the short train. She also carried a single white rose.

Miss Jacquelyn Kapanka of Hollywood, a college roommate of the bride, served as bridesmaid.

Gary Webber of Ontario served his brother-in-law as best man. Seating guests were Darryle Pricco of Los Angeles and Brian Zenz of Ontario.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for guests in the Lea Lea room of the Mission Inn.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Upland schools and the University of Southern California, where he was affiliated with Phi Delta Theta. He is a Certified Public Accountant for a Los Angeles firm but at present is in pilot training at Moody Air Force Base in Georgia. He is a second lieutenant.

The bride is a graduate of Michigan State University and is employed as a social caseworker for the Los Angeles County Bureau of Adoption.

SOPHOMORE SONGSTRESSES Hilary Hutton (left) and Melinda Hodell of Upland High School will join in the fun Saturday afternoon when the Children's Folk Concert, a cerebral palsy benefit, is presented at Edison School. The nameless combo is seeking a catchy tag (how about Twobadours or Troubadorables?), so perhaps some well-wisher will come to the rescue. The young listeners in the photo — Andy Nowak (left), Chris Nowak and Mia Girard — have no name ideas, but they certainly enjoyed the sneak-preview strumming and singing.

Hootenany-Type Program For Children's Concert

The Children's Folk Concert, a Hootenanny-type program to be given from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Saturday, May 8, at Edison School Auditorium in Ontario, will feature the musical talents of Eddie Hayes of La Verne.

The concert, a cerebral palsy benefit, is sponsored by the Pomona Valley Alumnae Club of Alpha Chi Omega.

For several years, Hayes has been giving instruction in guitar and performing folk music for children's programs in this area. He has appeared at the Golden Ring in Claremont and in numerous high school and elementary assemblies.

Mrs. William Anderson of Pomona, vice president of the sponsoring group, will act as mistress of ceremonies. She will sing and play her own guitar accompaniment.

Singing a number with Mrs. Anderson will be little five-year-old Ronnie Kuffner, who was born with a birth defect. He has been the Easter Seal Poster Boy twice. Ronnie has entertained on television and enjoys being a performer.

Also performing will be Albert Mooney and his first grade class of Hawthorne School in Ontario. The primary classes at this school have engaged in regular Hootenanny sessions this spring.

Mooney, recently elected president of the Ontario Teachers Association, feels this musical sharing is an excellent learning experience, and it is obvious that the children enjoy it immensely.

Sixth grade students at Vineyard School in Ontario and their instructor, Ron Miller, are also on the program. The class has learned Mexican and Spanish folk songs as part of a Latin-American study project. Its members made a few musical instruments in conjunction with their study and will use these to accompany their folk songs.

Melinda Hodell and Hilary Hutton, sophomores at Upland High School, will sing several numbers, accompanied by their guitars.

Another group of performers consists of Rick Hon, Kathy Herzig, Bill Parker and Chris Barr of West Covina, who also will sing and play guitars.

Tickets for the performance, which are 50 cents, are available at Rudi Pock's, 604 N. Euclid Ave., Ontario, or at the door Saturday. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Robert G. Ransom, YU 2-4091, concert chairman, or Mrs. Theo Nowak, YU 2-2544, publicity chairman, both of Upland.

Alpha Chi Omega alumnae members also assisting with the benefit include Mrs. Willis Kimbel and Mrs. John Self, refreshments, and Mrs. William Emrich and Mrs. John Windes, tickets, all of Ontario, and Mrs. Raymond Jollymour, club president, posters, of Claremont.

Sheriff's Rangers Set Spring Ride

Riders and non-riders alike have been invited to join the annual spring ride of the San Bernardino County Sheriff's Rangers, scheduled for Thursday, May 13, through Sunday, May 16, in the Yucca Valley-Pioneertown area.

Cost of the whing-ding, according to Sheriff's Lt. Jack Miller, will be $30 which will include all meals from Thursday night through Sunday noon, plus hay and grain for the broncs.

For those varmints who don't care to throw a bedroll, rooms will be available at the Pioneertown Motel. All reservations are to be made by Friday, May 7, through Floyd Tidwell in Victorville (Chapel 5-8606 in the daytime or Chapel 7-7536 at night).

Advisors To Convene With Guests

Nine teachers of evening real estate courses will be guests of the Chaffey College Real Estate Advisory Committee when the group convenes on the Alta Loma campus at 8 p.m., Thursday, May 6.

The agenda will include consideration of time apportionments to specific subjects in Real Estate Practice, proposed offerings for next semester and a report on increased pay for part-time instructors.

The guests will be:

Roger Child, Chino; Howard L. Blakeley, Corona; George R. Parker, Cucamonga; W. David Etchason, Ray Ferguson and Frank W. Splatt, Ontario; and Kenneth L. Hawes, James E. Mieras and Donavan E. Palmer, Upland.

Real estate instructors represented on the committee are Daniel Franco, Chino, and Ray K. Shook, Corona.

Sports-Minded To Hear Talk By Moomaw

A program featuring Don Moomaw, three-time All-American football star at UCLA, will be presented at 8:30 p.m. Friday, May 7, at the Claremont Presbyterian Church by the Mt. Baldy Chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

J. David Price of Upland, Chapter chairman, announced that high school and college athletes, their fathers and coaches, and others interested in FCA are invited to attend the event. He said the church is located at 1111 N. Mountain Ave., two blocks south of Foothill Blvd.

In addition to his American accolades, Moomaw subsequently was named to the Canadian Football League's all-pro eleven. In 1957, he was chosen one of the five outstanding men in California by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Uplanders actively participating in Chapter activities include coaches Jerry Bell, Jack Frost and Jerry Kehr of Upland High School, Tim Miller and Paul Trautwein of Upland College, Ray Stark of Chaffey College, Rich Hester of Chino High and contractor Odene Brown.

Nurses-To-Be Must Enroll 'n Order To

Chaffey College has advised prospective September enrollees in vocational nursing to take the college placement tests slated for May 15 or May 25 to assure themselves of seats in class.

Nursing department director Mrs. Ruth Schindler said that there are still openings in the vocational class but that it will soon reach its quota of students. The instructor is Mrs. Katherine Dawson.

CUHSD Board Names Assistant Principal, Assigns Inspectors To Construction Projects

Having met on the last three Mondays in April for a variety of pressing reasons, the Chaffey Union School District's Trustees found themselves concerned primarily with routine matters Monday night at their first May session.

One notable expection was the unanimous appointment of Jack Tinson, a 12-year staff member, as the second assistant principal at Chaffey High. The District's three other high schools still have but one assistant principal.

The Board acted on the recommendation of the Principals and Superintendent's offices which had urged additional help on the basis of Chaffey's large student population. Careful study of qualified personnel and proposed duties preceded the selection.

It was noted that Tinson's services "will be sorely missed in the area of science," but the Trustees felt he could be of more help to the District in the new position. He has been chairman of the science department for the past five years.

Tinson will be known as the assistant principal of instruction, with assorted duties to match the title. Included in areas of responsibility will be direction of curriculum study and development, special programs and services, operation of the library, textbook and audio-visual facilities, in-service education of staff personnel and teacher substitutes.

Just last week, Tinson was elected president of the CUHSD Teachers Association for 1965-66. Having served in 1959-60, he became the first educator chosen to repeat by his peers at Alta Loma, Chaffey, Montclair and Upland High Schools.

With construction of additions to Montclair and Upland Highs about to begin, the Board at its meeting assigned John W. Schiller and H. E. Spurney to serve as inspectors on the two projects, respectively.

Associate Supt. Alexander McLeish reported that Jim Clark had conferred with the architect's office in the screening and selection of the two "fully qualified and acceptable" inspectors. They will begin work effective Monday, May 10, at a monthly salary of $750 apiece.

In other action, the Trustees:

* Added the following paragraph to their own policy statement: "Members of the Board shall have authority only when acting as a Board legally in session. The Board shall not be bound in any way by any statement or action on the part of any individual Board member — except when such statement or action is made in pursuance to specific instructions of the Board."

* Accepted the resignations of Alex Yankovich of the Alta Loma staff, who intends to return to college to major in foreign languages; Jack Ridley, language department chairman on the Montclair campus, who intends to accept a position at Chaffey College; and Ray Schultze of the art department at Upland, who has been offered a position at a college in the midwest.

* Granted a year's leave of absence to Miss Sue Carlisle, a girls' physical education teacher at UHS, who wants to do a year of graduate work.

'Invitation To Life' Theme Observed By Beta Sigma Phi

Installation, awards and entertainment highlighted the recent 34th Founder's Day held by the City Council of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority at The Magic Lamp in Upland.

In attendance were 80 representatives of Beta Alpha Theta, Epsilon Beta, Gamma Alpha Iota, Rho Chi, Xi Gamma Kappa, Xi Theta Gamma and Upsilon chapters.

"Invitation to Life" theme for the annual event was carried out in the programs. Spring flowers were used as the centerpieces and name tags.

Outgoing council president, Mrs. Bob Dosh, conducted the meeting and acted as installing officer for the new slate, to be headed by Mrs. John Jopes. Others installed were: Mrs. Jim Green, vice-president; Mrs. Robert Hart, recording secretary; Mrs. Keith Olson, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Robert McGowan, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Nay, civil defense chairman, and Mrs. Woodruff DeSilva, sponsor.

Attendance awards and Girl of the Year were presented by the Chapter presidents. Recipients of Girl of the Year awards were: Mrs. Gordon Price and Mrs. Milton Bracey, Jr. of Epsilon Beta; Mrs. Ray Campbell, Gamma Alpha Iota; Mrs. Robert Burns, Rho Chi; Mrs. Harvey Kent, Xi Gamma Kappa; and Mrs. Donald Plyley, Xi Theta Gamma.

Mrs. Dorothy Reiss, international honorary member, read "Greetings from Alpha Chapter in Athene, Greece" which she helped form.

Mrs. DeSilva read a message from the founder Walter W. Ross entitled "Being a Real Person."

Mrs. Ann Stowell from The Garrick Players gave a delightful reading called "My Sufferin' Sisters" for the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. Dosh was presented with a gavel guard and scrapbook for her service as president. Then she, in turn, presented her staff with stars for their achievement bands.

Mrs. Frank Nay of Epsilon Beta was the recipient of a silver tea service that was a Council fund-raising project for the May Mission California Council Breakfast, sponsored by the Council.

Glen Young Employed By Sierra Club

Expansion of the Sierra Swim Club's activities has resulted in the employment of Glen Young of Upland, according to Wayne Blanton, owner-spokesman for Sierra.

He said Young will handle promotion of the Sierra clubhouse for rentals, and also will handle publicity and other "outside" matters.

Vern Evans will continue to handle all swimming aspects of the Sierra Club, Blanton added.

Young said he left his employment with Downing and Ward a week ago. He formerly was managing editor of THE NEWS for three years until September, 1964.

Spirit, Not Seniority, To Mark Hazen's Time At Navy League Helm

A three-year member of the West End Council of the Navy League, now its newly-installed president, this week gave good indication that he intends to make up for his lack of tenure with lots of enthusiasm.

"We doubled our membership to 84 last year," said Russell Hazen of Upland, "so I predict a more active program during the coming year. I plan to increase the pace of League activities and push membership over 100 as soon as possible. I'm sure we can."

Hazen, a naval lieutenant during World War II, was installed April 28 at an annual banquet at the Jade Palace Restaurant. Officers inducted with him included:

C. Russ Eck, vice president; Tom Ainsworth, secretary; Allan Barr, treasurer; Dave MacAlpine, juidge advocate; Fred Hannah, membership chairman; Larry Schofield, Marine Corps affairs; Dick Hall, shipmate chairman; George Yetter, cruise chairman; and Ray Ferguson, publicity.

In his first official comment on the new duties, Hazen told THE NEWS he'd like to emphasize that many League members are non-Navy people — "and we'd like to encourage more of them to join us." He said four regular meetings are held each year, with the directors meeting on a monthly basis.

Two weeks ago, Hazen and Tom Beiseker of Upland represented the West End Council at the 63rd convention of the Navy League of the United States in Washington, D.C. The local president came back with a message from the national president, Robert Barnum, which he feels sums up the purpose of their organization:

RUSSELL HAZEN

"The Navy League is—and always has been—dedicated toward a common objective, that of serving our country to keep the seas free and our nation safe, to insure that the public is aware of the vital importance of seapower and to foster a strong interest in the Navy, Marine Corps and our government as integral parts of a sound national defense.

"We are for progress, flexibility of thought and imagination. These are paramount. We are for changes that implement our national purpose and role. The problems of national defense are ours. These problems change daily. However, our course never does. The task is not finished, our purposes are still the same.

"We must rise to our opportunity and our just responsibility to be twice a citizen: first, to serve our government and our country—second, to support a naval force second to none—a force adequate in both manpower and equipment, capable of keeping the peace and providing security.

"Let us in the Navy League lead the educational effort for an enlightened America in every community of our country. Our thoughts and actions are the tools of tomorrow."

Citizens' Civic Center Committee

chance for more questions."

Albert Pattison interjected the thought that he wouldn't consider endorsement of the Council-designated location until he knew "more about the north end of town." It was his opinion that Upland's future "center of trade" might not be downtown.

Slowly but surely, before the smouldering site matter erupted, Adsit presented five information-filled posters which he called "Your Upland Civic and Community Center Program, 1965-1990." He said he had enjoyed "helping as a catalyst" in developing an "action plan."

Elaborating, the $100-a-day consultant detailed the functions of the committee — "to prepare and support a policy plan, a physical plan, a financial plan and a development plan" — which add up to the plan of action.

Adsit, who admittedly believes the proper location has been chosen for the Civic Center, stressed that 70 per cent of Upland's population lives in the multiple-use area below Foothill Blvd., while 30 per cent lives in the single-use area above. "The multiple use area produces more than 50 per cent of the assessed valuation," he noted.

On one of his posters, the planner offered four possible programs for the development and financing of the project. They would range from a $1,663,400 Center on 3.91 acres to a $2,375,018 Center on 4.75 acres, with many variations, and could increase the City tax rate from 24 to 34 cents, depending on the combination of facilities included.

Interestingly, several of the plans would call for reconverting the present City Hall for use as a future Upland Justice Court, while the least expensive of the suggested approaches would use the old building as the Upland Public Library.

Adsit seemed to lean toward an in-between version which would cost the taxpayers an additional 25 to 30 cents but would use only 3.91 acres of the prime land, leaving the income-producing commercial strip along Arrow Hwy. free for private-enterprise office buildings at the southeast corner at Euclid Ave. and the southwest corner at N. 2nd Ave.

Under this "moderate" plan, 22 per cent of the property would be allocated for two-story buildings, with City Hall and its adjacent Community Hall facing on Euclid, a new library facing across D St. and south on 1st Ave. and police headquarters holding down a position in the northeast portion of the acreage facing 2nd Ave. Parking would require 46 per cent and landscaping 32 per cent.

Adsit stressed that he has been thinking in terms of a broad, 63-acre town center with the Civic Center site as the focal point. This bigger area would be bounded by 3rd Ave. on the east, 9th St. on the south, Laurel Ave. on the west and F St. on the north.

Office buildings would dominate this area, he said, with a relocated Post Office possibly situated on the southeast corner of Arrow and 2nd. "Offices and apartments are needed around the Center for increased assessed valuation," Adsit said.

When the consultant observed that he would want to reserve most of the land north of Foothill for residential growth, if he lived in Upland, Mrs. Patricia Wilder commented on the April meeting of the City Planning Commission and its recommendations for future light industry zoning east of Cable Airport and a pre-fab firm on E. 19th St.

Adsit declined comment on these "unfamiliar" subjects, but insisted that "your new industry here has got to be office businesses." He explained that light industry is "tougher and tougher to get — they just keep moving out." He opined that "there's too much industrial zoning around, and most of it is not very good."

A suggeston that a County take-over of the City Library operation might save as much as 10 cents on the tax rate brought instant, alarmed reaction from several committee members who stuck with Drum when he said he was "diabolically opposed" to the idea.

At the outset of the meeting, Gibson opened by saying, "This is a very important night in the history of Upland. I greet you with a challenge—challenge to succeed where others since 1948 have failed. The time has come when we must move ahead."

The chairman said it would be a difficult "test," requiring that members "put community interests ahead of personal interests." He told them their committee had a new name, "because the mayor said the Capital Improvements Committee of last year was to be the last one on this project."

Gibson cautioned that 80 per cent of the general obligation bond elections presented to the public fail, "but we feel we're in the upper 20 per cent, if not the top one per cent, so we should succeed."

Later, Mayor Max Hawkins —after noting he was not a committee member and thus had no official voice — lamented that "Council was not able to do the job." He added, "It's up to you. We all agree we need it. So let's go get it."

When the discussion finally hit on the sore subject of site, determined by Council action five months ago, Gibson and Hawkins no doubt began to wonder if success is to be gotten through the CCCC. They may have joined Adsit in silently asking: "What is Upland?"

Track-Happy Upland High Hosts First SAL Meet Friday Night

By PHIL STONE

Track enthusiasts of the San Antonio League will be converging on Highland Field Friday night when Upland High School hosts the first SAL track meet. Field events are due to get underway at 6 p.m.

With the preliminaries having already taken place Tuesday, only the finest track stars of the SAL will be in competition Friday. Competition will be tough, with Upland and Pomona expected to fight it out for the title.

The meet also has a special meaning to all the athletes entered as winners in each event will then go on to California Interscholastic Federation (CIF) competition to be held a week later.

Running events are expected to take the spotlight, with the 100 and the 220 bringing most of the thrills. Upland will be represented by Jim Smith and Kent Davis will represent Ganesha. Both these runners are the fastest in the SAL and a photo finish is expected in both races.

In last year's meet, held at Upland for the now-defunct Tri-County League, the Highlanders were second by half a point to Claremont.

Action last week found Upland finishing the SAL undefeated and then being defeated by Pomona in the Chino Relays, 82-81.

League action started April 27 when Upland traveled to Bonita. As expected, the Highlanders captured the varsity class, but the C's received their first loss of the season—a loss that gave the C league to Bonita. This meet was the makeup for the one which was postponed two weeks ago and gave the Highlanders at least a tie for the championship in varsity competition.

Then on Thursday, the Highlanders traveled to Garey and wrapped up the league for themselves as Upland swept all three classes of competition.

The meet was very one-sided, with Garey only taking two firsts in both varsity and B competition while the C's took first place in every event, in addition to sweeping the 660.

Then, on Saturday, Upland traveled to Chino for the annual relays and, for the second year in a row, was beaten by one point. Several records were broken or tied, with the Highlanders' Bob Walton tying the high jump standard of 6-1.

Varsity baseball and tennis will have only one game this week as Friday is an off-date, but action will resume the next Tuesday.

Tuesday both squads traveled to Bonita to battle the Bearcats for the last road trip of the year. Next Tuesday, both will host Montclair.

On the baseball scene, the Highlanders have been improving with every game and the Montclair game should prove very close. The first time these two teams met, Montclair won 5-0 while only getting three hits off Upland pitcher Bill Talley. The problem lay with the 10 errors that Upland committed.

Montclair has just about wrapped up the league title and is enjoying good hitting along with fine pitching.

Upland has had its pitching troubles with Talley out for the past two weeks with a bad shoulder and a cold. Coach Herb Christian has had to rely on righthander Jean LaFond, who has turned in a fine job.

Because of the lack of pitchers, Christian has now bolstered the pitching squad with Fred Schmidgall who has appeared in two games and has given up three earned runs in six innings of work.

Montclair has never beaten Upland at Memorial Park and the district-rivalry contest should turn out to be one of the best of the year.

Last week, the Highlanders dropped a 5-3 decision to Ganesha but came back Friday to beat Claremont, 6-5, in eight innings. In the Ganesha contest, the Highlanders tried the comeback route to victory but fell short, leaving the tying runs on base in the seventh inning.

LaFond went all the way for the Highlanders, but four errors behind him cost the game. Big blast in the game was Dean Harmon's triple into deep right field to score a run.

On Friday, LaFond again pitched and turned in his finest game of the season, allowing only eight hits and striking out seven.

Upland came out of its hitting drought and produced 11 hits. Two, however, stole the spotlight as Harmon hit two home runs — both solo blasts, with the last one coming in the eighth inning to win the game for Upland. Both were hit into the tennis courts in right-center, the first going 325 feet and the second traveling 375 feet.

Tennis, although considered a minor sport in many circles, is proving to be one of the major ones for the Highlanders as Upland won two matches last week to almost cinch the league title. At present, the squad is undefeated in season play.

Big match was Friday against Claremont — known as a tennis power for years. However, the Highlanders had little trouble handling the 'Pack, winning 6-1. Only loss came in second singles where Richard MacKirdy received his first defeat of the year.

Bob Smith ranked No. 1 in the league, continued to be undefeated in season play and Jim Rupp, No. 5 singles, remained undefeated in league play as did the second doubles team, composed of Mike Nelson and Larry Van Tiem.

Man-And-Wife Committee Duo Misses Meeting After Mishap

Mr. and Mrs. Jack F. Blair, 1323 Ukiah Way, Upland, the only man-and-wife members of the Citizens' Civic Center Committee, missed Monday night's meeting of the group for good reason — or, more correctly, for a bad reason.

The 34-year-old attorney and his wife, Marilyn, 30, were injured seriously in a two-car collision the night of April 27 at the City's busiest intersection, Foothill Blvd. and Euclid Ave.

Mrs. Blair, who suffered head and back injuries, remained in San Antonio Community Hospital this week as THE NEWS went to press. Her condition was given as "good" by a hospital spokesman.

After treatment for painful neck and chest injuries, Blair was released from the hospital Sunday. He was in no condition to attend a meeting the following night, however.

Upland police reported that Blair's auto, traveling east on Foothill about 9 p.m., was struck from behind by another eastbound car, operated by Richard A. Montez, 31, of Los Angeles. Montez was booked at City Jail on suspicion of felony drunk driving and charges specifying that count now have been filed.

A passenger in the Montez vehicle, Mike Castellano, 25, of Glendale, was released after treatment for minor injuries at San Antonio Community Hospital.

RR Spur Referendum Election Could Be Delayed By Court

son), observed that he was doubtful about the wisdom of the spur hassle, but said, "The right of referendum must be defended, whether I disagree or not."

In recommending the election, in answer to "the will of the people," Christensen counseled them to study the facts and forget their emotions, then ask themselves, "Why did Council vote the way it did for the franchise ordinance?"

Mayor Max Hawkins added, "My stand on the spur hasn't changed (he too favored the franchise), but I agree an election should be held, since there is a question by the people."

The next item of business Tuesday concerned the Santa Fe's request for franchise renewal at Arrow Hwy., San Bernardino Rd. and 13th St. In view of what had just transpired, Christensen suggested that the request be put off the calendar "until the referendum matter has been resolved." Council concurred.

Councilman Ronald Rossitter then asked Christensen, chairman of the Park and Recreation Committee, if a public hearing on Memorial Park's master plan, scheduled for May 18, shouldn't also be put off, since the same track runs northward along the east edge of the park en route to Foothill Knolls.

"No," Christensen replied, "it won't affect the park's master plan. The committee favors parking east of the park, regardless of whether the track is there or not. It doesn't make any difference."

(Ed. note—Council action on the City Planning Commission's recommendation of a conditional use permit for the dormant Cucamonga Mesa Growers packing house on 19th St., indirectly linked to the spur dilemma, also will be on the agenda May 18. THE NEWS erred last week in reporting that a pre-fab firm's bid for the permit would come up Tuesday, forgetting that more time was required for publication of a legal notice pertaining to it).

A spokesman for David Miller, Ontario builder, asked Council for go-ahead permission for construction of a 4,000 square foot structure for the State Division of Motor Vehicles on 7th St. west of Mountain Ave. It was explained that Miller must meet an Aug. 1 occupancy deadline or Motor Vehicles, which plans to transfer its local licensing operation from Ontario to Upland, can cancel its contract.

Maroney advised that no authorization could be given since a record of survey still must be considered by the Planning Commission, but said construction could be started "at the builder's risk." The spokesman said Miller would welcome scrutiny by the Planning Commission and the Architectural Review Committee, which becomes official Thursday.

Reporting for the Sewage and Water Committee, of which Rossitter is the other member, Christensen said the land spin-off of the West End Consolidated Water Co. went into effect Monday. He predicted three years would be required to complete litigation.

Christensen moved that City Mgr. Elwin Alder convene with Robert Walline, president of the company, and determine the value of water shares to the City and work out an agreement, to be proposed later to the stockholders, whereby the City can exchange its land stock for water stock on a share-for-share basis. Council unanimously approved the move.

Commenting on his and Christensen's memberships on Consolidated's Board of Directors, Rossitter commented pointedly that "it shows how the City and a water company can work together harmoniously and successfully — it shows it can be done." Then, he added, "It's urgent to establish these values before any trades or sales are made."

Richard Clements, president of the recently-formed Upland Civic Association, presented the Councilmen with copies of his organization's bylaws and told of its basic purpose—"to promote active interest in community affairs." As its first major activity, UCA will sponsor a voter registration drive in June, he said.

Clements explained that his group had made arrangements for eight deputy registrars of voters to man booths in four Upland supermarkets each Friday and Saturday during the month, with special posters to announce their presence. "A real good idea," Rossitter commented as Council voted unanimously to designate June as Voter Registration Month.

In vigorous response to requests from the City of Fountain Valley, the Councilmen agreed to oppose AB 1461 (40-hour week for firemen) and by a 3-1 count (Christensen dissenting) to favor AB 1150 (park land dedication).

Alder informed Council that a 40-hour week here would represent an additional $45,000 on the firemen's payroll, or an 11-cent hike in the tax rate. "They have unusual schedules," Gibson observed, "they sleep a lot as part of their working hours." Christensen added, "State government keeps getting bigger and bigger as it tries to take away home rule."

Regarding AB 1150, a "permissive" bill which would allow cities to collect money from subdividers for establishment of area parksites at Council discretion, Rossitter argued that it might be a good thing to have available in the future.

"If we adopt a resolution endorsing that bill, this Council is being twofaced," Christensen countered. "We can't knock down Sacramento in one breath, then turn around and ask for permission to infringe on free will and the rights of people . . . this is the way our freedoms are being rationalized away."

Christensen Tosses Curve To Open Foothill LL Year

After Councilman James Christensen, a celebrated curve-tosser, had thrown out the first ball to conclude opening ceremonies, the Foothill Little League last Saturday enjoyed its first games of 1965 at the park at Mountain and 24th.

Skycrest Ford, one of the 10-team loop's new entries, got off winging with a 21-17 victory (baseball, that is) over the Upland Woman's Club.

Lesondak Plumbing, dropped its initial outing to Ted Grimm Chevrolet, 12-1.

Western Moulding won by the day's most lopsided score, 13-0 over Ralph's Rascals, while Seven-Up also earned a shutout, 5-0 over a second group of Rascals sponsored by Ralph's. A second Seven-Up nine shaded Ideal Homes, 2-1.

Last week, prior to the season's openers, almost 300 persons attended a league meeting at Sierra Vista School. All managers, coaches and players participating this year were introduced.

James Potts, loop president, presided. He announced that Randy Edmondsen would serve as official scorekeeper.

Burial In Kansas For 81-Year-Old

Mrs. Minnie M. Barkyoumb, 81, of 376 N. 11th Ave., Upland, died Monday morning in a San Bernardino hospital after an illness of three years.

Close Losses Demolish Brave Hopes Of Loop Titles In Track, Baseball

By TOM ABBOTT

Both the track and baseball teams of Alta Loma dropped close encounters to rival squads last week and it might have cost them the league championships.

After romping to an easy 85 to 37 win on April 26, the Braves visited the South Hills Huskies' track two days later in a battle for the league championship in all three divisions. The hosts handily won all three events to capture the league championships for the first-year school.

Rich Bare remained undefeated in league competition as he took his eighth "triple" in nine tries. He won easily in the high hurdles, low hurdles and the long jump. Venny Asebedo took the Braves' only other first in the varsity ranks with a 115'5" toss in the discus.

The Braves dropped most of their varsity men down into the Bee and Cee ranks in hopes of taking home the lower division titles, but some standout performances by the Huskies in those divisions spoiled the Braves' hopes.

On Thursday, the track squad traveled to Gladstone for its final dual meet of the season. The varsity walked away with the victory, 95 to 25. The Gladiators put every possible man they could in the Bee division and the move paid off as the hosts took a 47 to 46 win with a victory in the 660 relay.

League prelims were staged Thursday afternoon with the qualifiers advancing to the finals Friday afternoon on the AL cinders. The Bee and Cee finals in the field events were held Tuesday. Most of the field events in the varsity division did not need prelims, so the finals will be staged Friday.

On April 27, the Bruins from Bloomington put a damper on the Braves' hopes for a second consecutive Inland League baseball title as Clark continued his mastery over the Braves with a 4 to 2 four-hit victory.

The home run ball played an important part in the outcome of the contest. Pound and Rychevic hit circuit blasts for the home team, with Fred Wilding connecting for the visitors.

Steve Kokor suffered his second defeat of the campaign as he was touched for five hits and three runs in two and a third innings of work.

Dave Fritchey came on in relief and gave up only one run and two hits in three and two-thirds innings.

Clark limited the Braves to four hits in his second win of the season over the Inland League champs. In the initial contest of the season, he shut them out 1 to 0.

On Friday, the South Hills Huskies visited the AL diamond for the rubber game between the two second-place clubs. The Braves walked away with a 12 to 2 victory on the strong right arm of Kokor and the blazing hot bat of By Wilding.

Steve struck out 12 in six innings of work before giving way to Fritchey in the seventh due to the tiredness of a long baseball week.

Byron went three for four at the plate, collecting a home run and a pair of doubles while knocking in five with a grand slam and scoring two runs himself. In his final time at bat, the lefthanded swinger batted from the right side and rapped sharply into a double play.

The first seven men that the Braves sent to the plate in the bottom of the first came around to score. Byron's slammer was the big blow in the big inning.

Fred Weldon blasted his first homer of the season in the third inning to centerfield and Ridgeroni hit a solo shot in the sixth for the visitors. Weldon, Kokor, Dan Solters and Vidal Meza each collected a pair of hits in the Braves' 14 hit attack.

On Monday afternoon, Fritchey cooled the Sierra Vista bats with a one-hitter, his second of the season, as Alta Loma again romped to a 10 to 0 victory. Dave fanned 11 while walking five and giving up a lone single in the fourth inning.

Tubful Of Talent Hung On 'Clothesline'

A "Clothesline Exhibit" of 54 outstanding paintings of junior and senior high school student artists was held on the lawn of Upland Public Library last Saturday.

The paintings were chosen as entries in the Junior Red Cross International School Art Program, for the Upland Chapter of the American National Red Cross, from 300 pictures submitted from the art classes of Upland and Alta Loma High Schools, Pioneer, Cucamonga, and Upland Junior High Schools and St. Joseph's School.

The selection of 54 paintings to go to the Western Area of the Red Cross in San Francisco was made by Anthony Ivins and Hendrik Grise, professors of art at Chaffey College.

After further screening in San Francisco and Washington, D.C., chosen paintings are sent on a tour of European and Asiatic countries, including some behind the Iron Curtain.

Of the 176 pictures accepted last year from the seven western states, Upland Chapter had 12 accepted for the international portfolios.

Also exhibited Saturday were 34 pictures from an International Art Exchange portfolio. Norway, Yugoslavia, Thailand, Japan, Poland, Belgium, Canada, Finland and the United States were represented.

Adding further interest to Saturday's exhibit were crafts from the six schools, ranging from paper flowers to ceramic vases.

Several students from Upland High School were on hand during the day to do sketching and cartooning.

ST. JOSEPH'S SEVENTH GRADERS (left to right) Debby Presto, 1711 N. Leeds, Ontario; Ernestine Padilla, 674 West St., Upland; and Connie Tessier, 1311 N. 1st Ave., Upland, all Red Cross Volunteens, were on hand last Saturday to assist with the "Clothesline Exhibit" on the lawn of Upland Public Library.

Current Aim Of Chamber: Increase In Memberships

that each Board member bring along a newcomer as a guest. "Personal contacts" will be made and Gehrken and Malone will work toward arranging the breakfast for the last full week in May.

After the manager had laid the groundwork, the Board voted unanimously to hold the annual banquet Thursday, June 3, in the Miramonte Room of the Uplander Hotel. Price for the affair will be $4.50.

Malone promised a live-wire speaker for the occasion in keeping with the Chamber's rebirth attitude, and, at the suggestion of Richard Garner, who cited Montclair's great success, the Directors agreed to start awarding annual citations for new businesses and civic accomplishments at this year's dinner.

Dewey Cable was appointed chairman of the banquet committee, which will consist of Barbara Vallon, Ted Lyman, Harry Dier and L. G. Johnson.

New Chamber officers are to be installed as a highlight of the June 3 evening. President Dwight Bert said an election of six new directors will be completed by May 15, so they will be able to meet with the holdover Board members and get organized before the installation date.

Those nominated include Andrew Barmakian, Charles Jenkins, Dick Price, Dave Gardner, Lonnie Blanton, Don Wielder, Cletes Naylor, John Ward, Richard Hield, J. T. Waller, Harold Blatz and Elsie Pittenger, plus open nominations for Harris Pharmacy, General Telephone Co., Kaiser Steel, Rayne-Dotkin and Scheu Steel.

Regarding renewed membership efforts, Cable told the Board he had attended a meeting of the semi-formal Upland Business Improvement Association, of which he is a member, and advised the Foothill Blvd. group "it was foolish" to remain apart from the Chamber.

"They took my word for it," Cable said, "and I believe they're coming back in." Bert confirmed this fact, noting that Downing & Ward already had returned to the fold.

After thanking those who are going off the Board for their hard work through "some tough times," Bert said, "I think we're off to a real strong start for the coming year. It should mean steady growth for the Chamber and the City of Upland."

Postal Trucks Carry Maritime Message

Mayor Max Hawkins and Postmaster John W. James joined this week in placing the first National Maritime Day Poster on Upland's mail trucks. The ceremony and the poster highlight the American Merchant Marine and its importance to the Nation.

The poster consists of the superstructure of an American merchant ship and carries the words: "For Trade or Trips—American Ships." The poster also carries the wording: "1965—Fifteenth Anniversary Maritime Administration."

It will be displayed in post offices and on all mail trucks throughout the country for the entire month of May.

Annually proclaimed by the President as "National Maritime Day," May 22 is the focal point for paying public tribute to the American Merchant Marine, its ships and the men who sail them.

The importance of the American Marine to the Nation's peacetime economy and defense in time of war was pinpointed by Mayor Hawkins on the occasion of placing the first Maritime Day poster on the city's mail trucks.

In his remarks, he noted the fact that "American-flag merchant ships are essential to maintaining our foreign trade and the flow of vital exports and imports so necessary to our burgeoning economy. With one-tenth of the products of our farms, vast quantities of the products of our factories being exported, and our industries dependent upon the import of raw materials, an adequate, efficient and economic American Merchant Marine is vital to the Nation.

"Nor can we overlook the fact that greater use of American ships for both cargo and travel can make a major contribution toward easing our balance of payments deficit.

"In view of this, the National Maritime Day Poster slogan is indeed appropriate—'For Trade or Trips—American Ships'."

At the ceremony, Mayor Hawkins also paid tribute to the Government Agency responsible for maintaining an adequate, efficient and economic American Merchant Marine in noting the fact that on Monday, May 24, the Maritime Administration of the U. S. Department of Commerce will celebrate its 15th anniversary.

With Elbow Grease Aplenty, Sally's Set For New Chores

The post of corresponding secretary for the Student Council at Upland High School is an important one. It is held by Miss Sally Wignall, a junior student.

Sally is a busy girl on the campus. She is a member of Kappa Ni, a member of the Artenian Tri-Hi-Y in which she has held the offices of sergeant at arms and vice president, and of the AFS club, this year being one of the finalists in the program.

Sally has set a tremendous goal for herself this year, but has managed to complete the greatest majority of her projects well and on time.

Her main aim in the Student Council this year has been to promote a better relationship with other schools through the writing of correspondence which is clear, important and interesting. By this task, she feels that she has helped to make the Student Council an even more efficient working group than it has been in the past.

She was active in the canned foods drive held at Christmas time, and has been working very hard to complete a new design for the Upland High School stationery.

She is not all work, however. She enjoys sewing, reading, skin diving and the piano when she is not busily engaged in school activities.

Right now, she is looking forward to her senior year, for she has just been elected to the yearbook staff.

Another exciting project under way for her is the planning of her college career. At present she is interested in attending Colorado College.

Sally is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Wignall, 117 W. Arrow Hwy.

Bertha Walline Dead At Age 81

Following a long illness, Mrs. Bertha S. Walline, 81, a resident of the West End since 1898, died early Sunday morning in an Ontario convalescent hospital.

Services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at Stone Funeral Home, with Rev. Donald R. Kaelin, associate pastor of the First Methodist Church, Upland, and Rev. Fred F. Thornburg, minister of visitations for the church, officiating.

Private interment was held at Bellevue Cemetery.

A homemaker and rancher, Mrs. Walline came to California from Highland Center, Iowa, her birthplace, at the end of the last century. She was widowed by Austin Walline in 1961.

The resident of 422 E. 6th St., Ontario, is survived by a son, Robert S. Walline of Upland; a sister, Mrs. Marie Hogue of Twentynine Palms; and two grandchildren, Robert Evans Walline and John Stevens Walline, both of Upland

Mrs. Walline was a charter member and past president of The Mountain View Woman's Club; past member of the Ontario Woman's Club; and past president of the San Bernardino County Federation of Woman's Clubs. She also was a member of the First Methodist Church of Upland.

IT'S A BOY!

Mr. and Mrs. David L. Dunkin, 255 N. Vallejo Way, Apt. 1, became the parents of a son at 10:43 p.m. April 11 at San Antonio Community Hospital.

Plans Readied For Birthday Of FAF Club

The Fun After Fifty Club met for its regular business meeting in the Recreation Building in Memorial Park the afternoon of April 28. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and the financial report given.

The Kiwanis Club rummage sale May 14 and 15 was announced and members were urged to attend and give rummage. A new member was announced: James R. Buzzell of the Upland Inn.

Plans for the annual birthday party of the club are being made. It is to be held on June 22 in the Upland Woman's Club at 7:30 in the evening, and is to be catered. There will be no guests and members are asked to wear their badges.

Return postcards for the birthday party will be sent to members for reservations and these must be filled out in order to attend. Reservations may be made in person at regular meetings.

Pearl Knittle told something about her recent trip to Hawaii and said it was really "beyond words".

Shuffleboard time has been changed to 9 a.m. - 12 noon because it is cooler in the morning — the same days, Monday, Thursday and Friday.

Adolph Hjorth asked if there were any electricians in the group who could make the necessary setup for our loud speaker system. He then asked for any suggestions or complaints from the group.

It was mentioned that the bus on the trip to San Diego was unsatisfactory, and it was decided that in the future only the best buses would be used, even if it made the trip cost a little more.

The next tour will be May 26 to see "The Greatest Story Ever Told" at Cinerama, leaving at noon, with time for lunch before the show at 2 o'clock. The cost will be $4.95.

It was mentioned that better black-out curtains are needed in order to make the showing of pictures a success. Randi Hjorth said that material could be bought for draw curtains and she was asked to investigate the matter.

It was announced that election of officers will be held at the pot-luck dinner in June. Nominations will be presented at that time, and if there are no additional nominations, the nominees will be elected by acclamation.

The nominees will be introduced at the birthday party and installed at the regular meeting the next day, June 23.

After a reading by Ruth Bancroft, the meeting adjourned. The next meeting will be at 12 noon Wednesday, May 12.

Upland College Address Timely In View Of Dominican Crisis

DR. HUBER HERRING

A distinguished authority on Latin America comes to the City of Upland when Dr. Huber Herring presents an address at Upland College at 7 p.m. Monday, May 10.

The colorful and variegated history of Central and South America provides Dr. Herring with a challenge which he meets successfully in books, teaching and lecturing. He has a gift rare among historians, the ability to make his analysis come vividly alive to reader and listener while at the same time maintaining meticulous accuracy of fact.

The New York Herald Tribune review of his book, "A History of Latin America," published early in 1955 and now being reissued in a new edition, expressed this view succinctly when it remarked: "For the general reader and student alike Hubert Herring offers the best available approach in print to an understanding of present-day Latin America. Rare is his combination of expert knowledge, accurate scholarship and lucid, zestful exposition."

A pioneer in North America's belated discovery of her Latin friends, Dr. Herring has been making an annual trip to the twenty republics to the south for the past 30 years. He has maintained intimate contacts with political and cultural leaders in all of these countries.

In 1926 Dr. Herring organized the Committee on Cultural Relations with Latin America, one of the first agencies to antedate the official "good neighbor" policy. He keeps in constant close touch with the development of official United States policy in Latin America and has long known the men who have directed it.

In 1960 Dr. Herring retired as professor of Latin American Civilization at Pomona College and Claremont Graduate School, where he began teaching in 1944. Born in Winterset, Iowa, he was educated in Oberlin College and Columbia University.

For 25 years he has been writing on the nations of the south and on our relations with them. He is author of several authoritative books. His articles have appeared in scores of magazines and newspapers, such as the Christian Science Monitor, New York Times, Harper's and Yale Review.

His travels in Latin America have been interspersed with frequent trips to Europe, particularly to Spain, the country important for understanding the other Americas. For good measure, he has spent time lately in Japan, India and the Middle East.

Dr. Herring was in Cuba in the summer of 1959 making a study of the forces behind the late revolution in which Fidel Castro and a handful of young rebels unseated Dictator Batista. He interviewed the Cuban leaders and returned with fresh material on one of the most dramatic of recent overturns in the southern republics.

The topic of his address will be "The Chips Are Down in Latin America."

Tartan Tales

from Upland High

By Jingle Martz

CLASS OFFICERS

Well, it's all over! Officers for next year's sophomore, junior and senior classes were elected after a spirited campaign week.

Officers for the senior class of 1966 are: Bruce Dunn, president; Larry Freeman, vice-president; John Renbarger, secretary; and Greg Leo, treasurer.

The class of '67 elected Rick Takemoto as its president, Chip Martz as vice-president, Carol Wise the secretary and, as the new treasurer, Doyle Fant.

At the helm of the class of '68 will be the elected president, Dale Magruder. Dale will be supported by Dick Howell as vice-president, Donna Wake as secretary and David Hudson as treasurer.

The frosh — next year's sophomores—followed a precedent set by the class of '67 in last year's elections. Both classes elected their sophomore year president by a write-in vote.

Also, Magruder, by coincidence, is the brother of next year's ASB vice-president, Mike Magruder.

Only two girls were elected out of the 12 officer vacancies. The boys will really rule next year's classes!

Voting in this year's elections were 38% of the frosh, 46% of the sophs and 47% of the junior class members.

Alta Loma Youth Aids In Viet Nam

Seaman Michael J. Twiford, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Twiford, 9923 Lemon Ave., Alta Loma, participated in the second and third Marine landings last month at Da Nang, South Viet Nam, which were followed by a four-day operation in the Hue-Phu Bai area, completed April 18.

The recent landings are intended to strengthen the Ninth Marine Expeditionary Brigade guarding the Da Nang air base, and to strengthen the security in Hue-Phu Bai, 40 miles north of Da Nang.

The landings differed from usual amphibious landings. Landing craft had to transit the 12-mile restricted passage of the Song Hue river to reach their unloading ramps at Hue.

Peace Corps Test Saturday In Pomona

An opportunity for West End area residents to test their aptitudes for Peace Corps service will come at 9 a.m. Saturday, May 8, at Room 204, Post Office, 440 S. Thomas St., Pomona.

The opportunity is the Peace Corps Placement Test, which is not passed or failed and you can't study for it. It measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language. If, for example, test scores indicate limited language acquiring ability, the Peace Corps tries to place the applicant in an English-speaking area.

The test is used by the Peace Corps only as a tool in the matching of Volunteers and jobs. The Peace Corps Questionnaire is the most important indicator of an applicant's suitability for Peace Corps service. It must be filled out and brought to the exam unless previously submitted.

Applicants should plan on about one and a half hours at the testing center, unless they wish to take the Spanish or French language achievement test, which requires an additional hour.

CAMPBELL DAUGHTER
Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn E. Campbell, 973 Sycamore Ct., Upland, became the parents of a baby girl at 11:02 p.m. April 11 at San Antonio Community Hospital.

JUST FIDDLING AROUND in this zany scene from "The Curious Savage" is Harry Cahill who has several other members of the Garrick Players' cast somewhat perplexed. They are Bob Walraven and (left to right, seated) Tracy Hughes, Fresta Gable and Ann Stowell. The John Patrick comedy will be presented at 8:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday, May 7 and 8, at Alta Loma High School Auditorium, with tickets available at the box office.

Labor Of Love By Four Gardeners Beautifies 'The Onion Patch' Of ALHS

Two years ago, the campus of Alta Loma High School was known as "the onion patch." Now, due to the dedicated efforts of four men, it is a 40-acre beauty spot.

It was truly a labor of love by this quartet — Kazuo Oda, grounds foreman; Charles Bolin, James Andres and George Knittel.

Prior to the construction of the school, the area was farmed, and actually did contain plantings of onions. The site is on a gradual slope of ground in the foothills of Mt. San Antonio.

When the school was built, the slope was graded to form three levels of campus, with the gymnasium and playing fields on the highest elevation. The grading and construction completely denuded the area of all forms of vegetation.

Now, the campus contains 26 acres of grass, 200 trees and 3500 shrubs.

There were a few olive trees planted, but not a blade of grass when the school opened in the fall of 1963. After a full week of gardening, the men took turns on week ends, watering and caring for the new plantings.

They chose not to use a formal type of landscaping. Instead, they utilized rock, bark, wood benches and the cement walks to accent the plant life.

Corners of the campus offer cameos of beauty in unexpected places. Two of the buildings surround patios containing tropical shrubs and trees.

Oda emphasized the olive tree as the main shade planting. Other trees are Brisbane box, pines, alders, evergreen ash, evergreen elm, white birch, loquat, redwood, liquid-amber, honey locust and the golden rain tree.

Shrubs, both flowering and evergreen, are the bottle brush, Armstrong juniper, jasmine, fatsia, pittosporum, flax, yucca, philodendron, xylosma, mahonia, rahiolepis and many others. To control maintenance of the grounds, Oda says that he does not plan to use annuals.

To walk through the 40-acre campus of Alta Loma High School, and to see the lush growth of the grass and plants, one would never dream that only two years ago the area was first an Indian campground, then an onion patch, and a barren, rocky waste.

Services Held For Etiwandan

Following Rosary the evening of April 23 at Stone Funeral Home, services were conducted on April 24 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Etiwanda for Mrs. Felicita Rabagliati, 66.

Rev. Father Francis Horvath conducted the services and entombment followed at Bellevue Mausoleum.

Mrs. Rabagliati, of 12996 Miller Ave., Etiwanda, died April 20 of a sudden heart attack after a very brief illness at San Antonio Community Hospital.

A native of Italy, the homemaker came to the United States in 1920 and moved from New York City to Etiwanda in 1948.

She is survived by her husband, Luigi Rabagliati of Etiwanda; a daughter, Mrs. Don Carbonara of Etiwanda; two granddaughters, Mary Ann and Janet Carbonara of Etiwanda; and a sister, Miss Rena Imetti of Piemonte, Italy.

Fanny Broyles Dies At 75

Funeral services for Mrs. Fanny E. Broyles, 75, of 685 N. 1st Ave., Upland, were conducted the afternoon of April 28 at the Draper Mortuary Chapel, with Pastor Eber Dourte of Upland Brethren in Christ Church officiating. Entombment followed at Bellevue Mausoleum.

Mrs. Broyles, an Uplander since 1930, became ill six weeks ago. She was taken to St. Mary's Desert Valley Hospital in Apple Valley, where she died April 25.

A native of Ohio, she came to California in 1909 and resided in Santa Cruz before moving to Upland. She was active in home mission work for the Brethren in Christ Church.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown of Victorville; a sister, Mrs. Herbert Naylor of Ontario; two brothers, C. I. Linkey and I. J. Linkey, both of Upland; and four grandchildren.

Rites Pending For Youngster

Graveside services for Theodore Melendrez, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Melendrez, 201 E. Ralston, Ontario, were held last Thursday in Rose Hills Memorial Park, Whittier.

The child was born last Aug. 4 in San Bernardino. Death also came in a San Bernardino hospital after a two-day illness.

In addition to his parents, the boy is survived by three sisters, Cynthia, Corrine and Rita; three brothers, Tony, Phillip and Mario; and three grandparents, Mrs. Mary Luna of Cucamonga and Mr. and Mrs. Guadalupe Melendrez of Ontario.

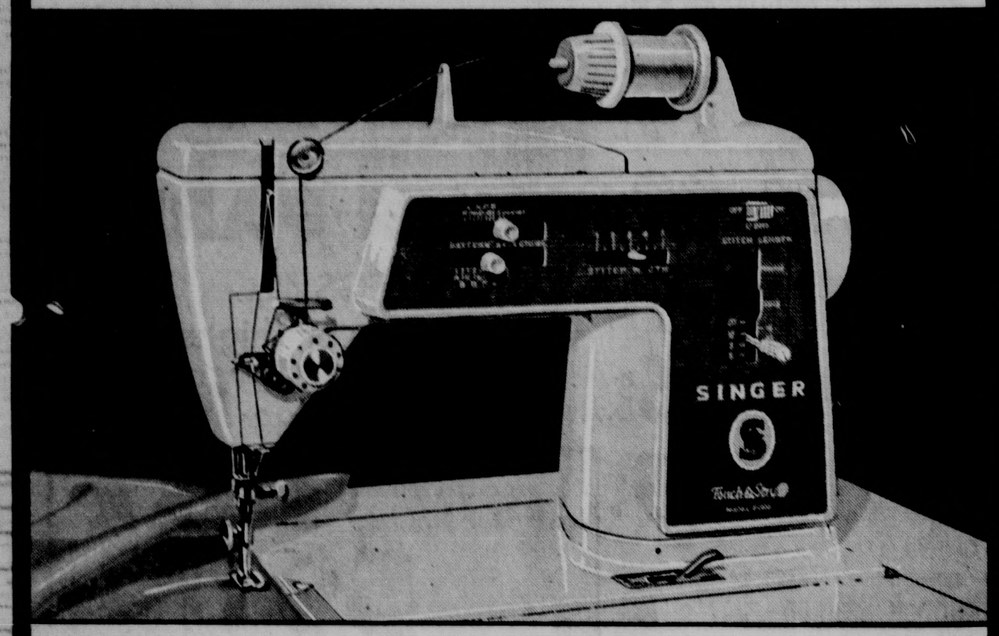

EXCITING DOUBLE BILL now playing through Sunday at The Grove Theatre in Upland includes veteran actresses Bette Davis (left) and Olivia de Havilland in the 20th Century-Fox suspense-drama, "Hush . . . Hush, Sweet Charlotte." Other film is controversial "John Goldfarb, Please Come Home," starring Shirley MacLaine as a harem girl.

SOUTHLAND BOYS will pour into Los Angeles Thursday through Sunday for annual Shrine Circus staged by Al Malaikah Temple in Shrine Auditorium. Above, happy young residents of McKinley Home for Boys in San Dimas are given free tickets (as gift from Pomona First Federal) by Paul Walker, past president of Pomona Kiwanis Club, assisted by Gordon Oddy, previewing clown act, and William Ariss, temple guard of Pomona Masonic Lodge.

Special Legislative Session 'Inevitable,' But When, For What And How Long?

By EUGENE NISBET
State Senator
San Bernardino County

As our general session slowly crawls into its last weeks, it becomes increasingly apparent that our deliberations this year will not be ended by the constitutional adjournment date, June 16.

Everyone concedes that a special session to follow is inevitable. But there is still much speculation as to when it will be convened, what subjects will be put on the agenda and how long it will last.

Three major problems must be resolved in one way or another before we can terminate our labors. The State budget for 1965-66, the program of additional taxes to finance it and reapportionment of the Senate will probably still be with us when the mandatory closing date arrives.

The tempo of our work will be further slowed by the flood of bills which were introduced just ahead of the deadline for free introduction April 23. Nearly 1,500 measures were dropped in the hopper during that one week.

To add to our burdens, a special agreement between our two houses was made, under which all requests made to the Legislative Counsel by April 23 for drafts of proposed bills were honored, even though the measures could not be put physically into the hopper on that date. As a result, a total of 5,018 bills have been introduced, up more than 250 over the total in 1963.

Some of the measures which this agreement enabled to get under the wire were immediately recognized as explosive, with built-in hair-triggers, certain to be pulled by some embattled group.

Our proposed constitutional amendment would bring the budget of the University of California under closer supervision of the Legislature. The relative freedom of the University from budgetary control has been a touchy topic among us lawmakers for years.

Another proposed amendment would have four purposes, all of which are controversial. It would double our salaries; it would lengthen our regular sessions; it would add two years to the terms of both Senators and Assemblymen; and it would raise the number of Senate seats from 40 to 45.

A third proposed amendment would make a basic change in our legislative processes. It would provide for an automatic three-day session, to be convened 30 days after adjournment of every general session, to enable legislative action on vetoes of bills by the Governor.

Under existing constitutional provisions, if the Legislature is meeting, he has 10 days to sign or veto a bill, but his veto can be overridden by a two-thirds vote of each house. After adjournment, however, the Governor has 30 days during which to act on bills, and may "pocket veto" all he wishes, without fear of being overridden.

A Senate bill would establish a State Board for Community Colleges, thus taking junior colleges out of supervision by the Department of Education.

Since the Governor controls the subjects that can be put on a special session agenda, there is much interest in what his call will include. Some prominent legislative leaders are urging him to limit it to major items, but others are recommending that it be left fairly open. Much horse trading for votes is expected.

Combine School, Work, CTA Urges In Statement

Upland (Calif.) News — 7
Thursday, May 6, 1965

Today's dazzling rate of technological change and its unsettling influence on employment needs should not be an excuse for a "do nothing" attitude toward vocational education.

Instead, the very complexity of the problem calls for greater effort and understanding by the schools, business, labor and the general public in helping students attain job skills.

Too often vocational education has been shunted into an isolated sidepocket, the California Teachers Association (CTA) said in a new policy statement prepared by its Commission on Educational Policy.

The Commission said three factors point up the drastic need for stronger programs in vocational education—the decrease in unskilled jobs, the increased training required for most employment and the need for frequent retraining to keep pace with change.

One of the big challenges is that of "the image of inferiority" surrounding vocational studies, the Commission statement says. Society has placed such a high premium on a full college education that many capable youths turn away from desirable careers in the vocational area.

The Commission strongly opposes separate vocational education schools on the grounds that this would heighten the status problem and that a sound base of general education as provided in a comprehensive school is essential for success in vocational training.

One of the best ways in which school training can be made meaningful and timely is by combining it with work experience, the statement adds. This requires participation by both the business community and labor.

The school's responsibility is to see that graduates who become job seekers have the proper qualifications, including a mastery of fundamental communication and computation skills.

"Vocational education should give all students needed instruction in basic economics, the place of work in human affairs, the organization and management of work in contemporary society, the language and mathematics of work at varying levels, the organization and self-determination of workers, loyalties and attitudes of workers toward employment, and personal handling of money," the Commission reports.

Other findings in the report include:

* The junior college will become the place where a large portion of career training will occur because the need for increased technical competence will require education beyond the high school level. This again points to the comprehensive rather than the separate vocational high school.

* A part of the education of most students should be regarded as vocational education with the school obligated to provide for a major portion of its students studies that lead to employability.

* "While it is true that the future kinds of work cannot be accurately forecast, this uncertainty should not paralyze either students or schools into a fearful do-nothingness. School-counseled career choices will still have to be made and a beginning of entry level skills undertaken."

Calling Mom? Be Patient!

Mother's Day telephone calls will again keep the long distance circuits busy all day long Sunday, May 9, it was predicted by H. P. Barlow, traffic director of the General Telephone Co.

Mother's Day is second only to Christmas in terms of volume of long distance traffic, Barlow disclosed. He asked all customers to have patience with the long distance operators, who will be heavily burdened throughout the day.

Barlow also pointed out that the low After-8 rates apply all day Sunday, as usual. These low rates are $1 or less plus tax for the first three minutes of all inter-state long distance calls.

If you live in an area that has DDD facilities, and the majority of General Telephone's operating exchanges do, dialing your own long distance call may get you the fastest results, Barlow said.

Teachers Pick Clark To Head State Group

Fred Clark, mathematics and science teacher at the College of San Mateo, has been elected the new state president of the California Teachers Association (CTA).

Catherine Hanrahan, primary school teacher in San Luis Obispo and former president of the CTA Central Coast Section, is the new CTA vice president.

Wilbert Bolliger, chemistry instructor at Ganesha High School, Pomona, current president of the CTA Southern Section and chairman of the CTA Committee on Financing Public Education, has been elected to the CTA State Board of Directors.

The new officials, elected by the 430-member CTA State Council of Education, will take over their positions July 1.

The CTA, now in its 102nd year and the largest state teachers' organization in America, is supported by the voluntary dues of 142,000 active members who serve in all areas of public education—primary grades through higher education.

President's Action Laudable In Viet Nam, Santo Domingo

President Johnson has taken decisive action in Viet Nam and in Santo Domingo.

We heartily and thankfully support his actions in these instances.

It is about time that an American President began to uphold the dignity and honor of America and of freedom.

We hereby back President Johnson in these two cases — and will continue to back him for further action.

It is refreshing to see the United States stand up.

It is our freverent hope that this indicates other areas in which the President will act decisively. Let's hope some more of that old Texas Alamo spirit comes through.

Our support of the President does not, of course, endorse his domestic, socialistic program.

Here it is sad to witness the debilitating actions that weaken individual freedom. The poverty program, the medical program, to name but two, are so designed to be with us forever — with the federal government paramount in running people's lives.

Philosophically, this runs contrary to the decisive action in two foreign affairs instances where liberty and faith and freedom are held high.

The screams from the Communists, false "peacemongers", and the gullible, asking for us to pull out of Viet Nam and stay clear of all hot Communist "liberation" wars, is a disservice to freedom everywhere.

* * *

The old chestnut today is that we are lucky that Sen. Goldwater didn't become President — for he would undoubtedly be bombing North Viet Nam, sending in Marines, using chemical warfare, rightly taking India and Pakistan down a peg or two, etc.

This, of course, is the hypocritical aspect of the last election.

But in any event — go get 'em, Mr. Johnson.

Four-Hour Planning Session 'Ridiculous' And 'Unnecessary'

As reported in our news columns a week ago, the Upland Planning Commission's meeting of April 22 involved 10 public hearings which were largely responsible for a near-midnight adjournment.

A standing room only throng packed the Council Chambers at City Hall for these hearings, the first of which considered the General Plan for acreage east of Cable Airport and required 75 minutes of pro and con discussion before the Commissioners came to their conclusion. The subsequent hearings, plus several other matters on the full agenda, also covered important territory.

Considerable interest was indicated, quite understandably, in such assorted items as a conditional use permit for a pre-fab manufacturing firm which would occupy the old 19th St. packing house, a huge mobile home park and the proposed San Antonio Community Hospital Helistop.

This is A RIDICULOUS SITUATION, having so many important subjects brought up at the same session. It isn't fair to Upland residents, who often must wait for hours before the subject of particular concern to them is reached, and it isn't fair to the Commissioners, who are expected to give each matter complete, careful consideration.

In a fast-growing City of more than 26,000 persons, probably destined to triple in the next two decades, the Planning Commission has A VITAL JOB to do. Its talented, unpaid membership is charged with figuring out the best course of action for Upland to follow, then making learned recommendations to the City Council.

The Commissioners, regardless of their ability, cannot be counted on to work at grade-A efficiency when faced with 10 public hearings, and then some, at a single sitting. True, most of their meetings don't feature crowded agendas, but it can happen, as we witnessed in April, and it is liable to occur with greater frequency as Upland's problems multiply.

In the past, THE NEWS has urged TWO PLANNING COMMISSION GATHERINGS MONTHLY, in order to provide citizens with a just opportunity to present their opinions and to provide the planners with ample time to render logical, sensible decisions. The Commissioners are dedicated volunteer leaders, so we feel certain they would welcome added sessions to insure a better, fairer performance.

We at THE NEWS are weary of this unnecessary burning of midnight oil at City Hall, and we know a lot of other people — Commissioners and Councilmen included — would like to see the situation improved. Let's start by scheduling Planning Commission meetings the second and fourth Tuesday of every month!

'Happy Birthday,' Kiwanis!

This year marks the 50th anniversary of Kiwanis International, an organization of outstanding men which has recorded notable achievements on a global scale.

The Kiwanis Club of Upland, in existence only 11 years of the half-century being observed in year-long celebrations, nonetheless has CONTRIBUTED APPRECIABLY to the success of the whole organization. Several years ago, it received recognition as one of the very top clubs in the world-wide structure.

THE NEWS this week is delighted to wish the local group of community leaders "HAPPY BIRTHDAY" in a layout of photos and words elsewhere in this issue. As pointed out, this is an appropriate time for such saluting, since Kiwanis-sponsored Goodwill Week was celebrated last week in the United States and Canada and, locally, the Kiwanis Club's first major fund-raising event of 1965 is scheduled for next week.

Our layout tells succinctly, we think, what Kiwanis has meant for this area and what kind of men are responsible for the club's truly tremendous accomplishments. Objectives and achievements are outlined in separate articles and a picture of President Dale Genung, with nine of 10 past presidents who are still active in club endeavors, also featured.

Kiwanis has left its INDELIBLE MARK on our community, and we boast a better place in which to live and work and play because of the club's splendid work.

Welcome Visitor

What interests the readers of weekly newspapers?

The Suburban Press Foundation conducted a survey to find the answer to that question, and Editor & Publisher has printed the results. They cast a revealing light on the wants of the millions of people who live in the small towns and the countryside.

As one would expect, local news led the field in readership, with 92.9 per cent of those polled saying they always read it; 6.5 per cent saying they read it sometimes; and only 0.6 per cent confessing they never read it.

Next — and close behind — came editorials and local columns. A mere 0.7 per cent said they never read these.

Third in reader interest was advertising. Only 2.7 per cent said they never read it. All the rest said they always or sometimes read it.

Actually, the whole weekly paper is very thoroughly read. Even the poorest read classification — sports news — drew a combined "always" and "sometimes" readership of 89.1 per cent.

The weekly paper is one of the most welcome of visitors to homes. It stays for seven days, not just one. And the whole family has a lasting and hearty appetite for just about everything in its columns.

Dedicated To Building A Bigger And Better Community In Which To Work, Live And Relax

Thursday, May 6, 1965

257 E. 9th St., Upland, Calif. — YUkon 2-1385

THE GARBAGEMEN COMETH CHEERILY to the Cucamonga home of Mrs. Glen E. Finley, 7920 Valle Vista, Red Hill, for gaily-decorated trash cans are always there to greet them and, even in wintertime, put them in a spring mood. THE NEWS would like to salute Mrs. Finley for a novel and nice thought. And also for discarding the storm door early!

Remember those Berkeley students who were stating so positively that there was absolutely no commie taint on the so-called free speech movement at Berkeley?

And all the time many of us knew one of the prime movers using the front was Bettina Aptheker, daughter of Herbert Aptheker, a leading U.S. Communist. Now she is taking over, and admits there are a half dozen "socialist-marxists" (including her) on the FSM executive committee, about 25% of that committee.

Where are the letters now from the naive (?) students who wrote letters home and to newspapers a few months ago passionately stating the purity of the FSM revolt.

Miss Aptheker says the end justifies the means, according to an interview in the L.A. Times. That has been stated time and again by the commies. Murder is all right, and so are any other crimes, if the result advances communism.

Enough for now of the wolf in wolf's clothing.

Albert B. Tieburg, director of employment for the State of California should be careful—might get himself lynched. Not because of the foul up in domestic and foreign farm workers, but because of a news release from his office.

There isn't a thing wrong with Tieburg's observing May as "Senior Citizens Month" but he'd better take care when his campaign for employing Senior Citizens includes all persons over 40. Some of us do not consider ourselves "senior citizens" yet.

I've been having trouble with my favorite flashgun lately. Works fine every time I test it, but when I go to shoot a picture, it works sometimes, but mostly doesn't.

Someone remarked that she thought only amateurs' flash equipment broke down at the critical moment. Not so. It's a wonder newspaper and professional photogs don't have more troubles. They use their equipment a lot, and we give ours some rough usage.

That's why pros and newslensmen usually choose equipment that they believe will stand up under heavy, rough usage.

That flashgun that's been bugging me is 10 years old. The camera it's attached to is a 1957 model. Neither one has been in the shop—yet.

Every now and then I'm asked that question, "Which camera should I buy?" I'm glad people ask me. At least they are thinking before buying.

I often loan out a stack of photo magazines to people thinking of buying a camera, magazines with articles about different types and makes, articles by experts.

Those experts can agree on only one thing: no one camera type or brand is right for everyone.

To that I can add one thing: Practically no one pays full list price for anything photographic these days. Advertised "list" prices are a ceiling price only. When that price is "under $150" that's all it means. Price of a camera or other equipment is whatever you have to pay for it. Shopping pays.

Short time ago I took it upon myself to give some free advice to another weekly paper on some prints we engraved for the paper.

Along with the prints and engravings (which didn't turn out too bad in the paper) I sent a critique. Couple days later I got my crit sheet back in the mail with penciled comments:

1. Pix of kids hunting eggs—backlighted with no flash fill makes faces too dark (I wrote). Answer: Couldn't find my flash.
2. Furniture store print: water spots. Ans: Advertiser didn't like our other shot.
3. Flag shot: store fronts in shadow. Ans.: Couldn't wait for sun.
4. Horses: pinto, white hat, road only parts of picture not gray-on-gray. Ans.: was taken last year.
5. Hen sign: sign, uniforms fine, faces down a little (to gray). Ans.: Not our picture.
6. Boy and girl with egg basket: Blocked highlights. Flash fill would have helped shot). Ans.: see other page (apparently referring to "couldn't find my flash") Also spots on boy's face, running into hair — I'll pass, what did do it? Ans.: Freckles?

We all have our problems, amateur, professional and newspaper photogs. If you rate yourself an amateur and have difficulties, don't feel bad. Join the club.

There are a couple of judges who feel that hiding a criminal's name and tendencies aren't the best way to protect society.

Have you heard of Judge Lester H. Loble of Helena, Mont.? He favors open courts for all offenders, and fathered a law giving the public and press an open door when a juvenile is tried for a felony.

We need more like him.

In Santa Ana there is another judge who is trying some different sentences for certain criminals. Judge William L. Murray feels that judges should "protect the public from criminals."

In a case of child molestation, he ordered the molester to be sterilized.

In the case of a bad check writer, he ordered the man to wear a tag for three years stating he was a rubber check type.

Geiger To Lead UJHS Faculty

Robert Geiger has been elected to the position of president of the Upland High School faculty for the year 1965-66.

He will be aided by his fellow officers, vice president Bill Turner, secretary Dian Morrison and treasurer Sarah Snell.

This group will have charge of the business of the entire faculty of the school.

The head office was turned over to Geiger by outgoing president Ted Mann.

CANCELLATION OF REGISTRATION

Should any registered voter fail to vote at the November General Election in any even-numbered year, his registration automatically becomes cancelled on the ensuing Jan. 1 and such voter must again register to be entitled to vote at any subsequent election.

(Ed. note — This is the fifth in a series of weekly items of helpful information concerning voting registration, suggested and coordinated by Mrs. Marjorie Johnson, 1221 N. Grove Ave., Upland, a deputy registrar of voters.)

DON'T WANT TO SELL
To the Editor:

We would like to clear up a vital point which appears to have been passed by, by the newspaper and the City Council alike. We refer to last week's Minute Editorial Views which stated "How come there are few home owners who will agree to sell (of the 58 homes which the Rock Company offered to buy along the railroad spur) — if they think the railroad is going to damage the value so greatly?"

First, let us state we still do firmly believe that the property will devaluate and these expectations are corroborated by a report given by an independent appraisor, copies of which were presented to the Council.

However, we did not buy our home to make money, we bought because we wanted to live here and to raise our children in Upland. We do not plan to leave "a sinking ship"; we feel it is better not to sell out — but to stick with Upland, staying and trying to insure as Uplanders that things stay as nice as possible and to improve the community where we can.

Most of the people who live here have lived and worked in and for the City of Upland for many years, people who give to the City in time and money to support the schools, the Scouts, the Pony League, the Little League and various other clubs and activities.

Some may ask why we do not sell out here and buy in some other part of Upland and this too is easy to answer. The primary thought that comes to mind—"What assurance is there that what happens to one section of town cannot happen in another section within a few months or years?"

Secondly is another fact which is continually overlooked, the Rock Company has NOT offered to pay "Fair Market Value" for the homes, but only what was originally paid, plus proven costs for improvements.

Every thinking individual knows that you cannot buy an equivalent house today for the same price you paid from one to eight years ago; therefore, everyone selling would take a great financial loss.

Let us end by repeating we do not want to sell out, we want to continue living in the homes we have bought in good faith that the City of Upland will continue to grow as one of the finest residential communities in Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Howarth
1316 N. 13th Ave.

NEW HOME FOR MADONNA
To The Editor:

Many thanks for thinking of the Euclid Avenue Chapter of the San Bernardino County Museum Association when you were trying to find a home for the enlarged and framed "Madonna of the Trail."

Clark Heiple, our second vice president, has kindly consented to clean and restore the frame.

It will make a wonderful addition to the Chapter building after it is placed in its new location.

HASTA MANANA?
To The Editor:

My Spanish-speaking people once used to live south of the border in Old Mexico. And now they have fathered daughters and sons in the United States and are now American citizens.

It was many happy years ago that everyone used to have a lot of fun, with music, parties, fiestas, tardiadas and love for everyone. I ask myself and wonder what has happened that we don't have it anymore.

No one is happy. Everyone is sad. But perhaps everything has changed for my amigos of American decent, born in the United States. Perhaps they are busy enjoying life some other way, or perhaps something else has gone wrong. Maybe they are busy paying for a house or a new automobile, or perhaps they went on a vacation to Mexico. Yes?

Well, amigos, no! Let me tell you what you are doing, my amigos of America. You were taught to be good amigos to work in the fields of America for a few centavos an hour. You were taught to be a Democrat, and you would have work and dinero. And lots of other things, but it is not so.

You are working hard to pay high United States taxes every time you swing the pick and the shovel. And every time you sweat for your dinero, it goes to some country that you have never heard before. And amigos, someone comes with a smile from abroad and want dinero. They are welcomed with millions of dollars from your own sweat.

Why amigos! That money should stay here, and be spent for ourselves, so we can pay for the house, car and buy a beautiful senorita a ring.

You could enjoy life if you would help for a better future in voting as a Republican. And you can enjoy FREEDOM day and night. The Republican party is a good party. And don't let anyone tell you it is bad.

The Republican party is wonderful to all Mexicanos of America, and the rest of the good people all over the world The Republican party will save your money by keeping it here for our country so we can have a stronger and richer country for our own good.

Let us Mexicanos Americanos let the rest of the world know and the Republican party know that we are going to work hard for us — and not to be slaves for this so-called Democratic party. Let us open our eyes now, before it is too late, so we can keep taxes down and eat more tortillas and beans.

Amigos, I was born here in America and I am not going to be a slave for no so and so. My duty here is to let people know how great fools we have been in the past. I will work hard for the good will of all mankind in this earth, that God gave us to take care of, and not to destroy innocent lives of all ages.

I will give to those who need with a great smile. I will not trick anyone. In the 1930's there was a Depression. Please, amigos, I want for you to know the truth. It was a world-wide Depression. Please do not blame it on the Republicans.

I want all my amigos next time you register or vote to say I will vote Republican or I want to register Republican for a better future and a better living. I have opened my eves now and I can see better like Juan.

I want to thank all of you, my amigos, and the rest for taking part in reading this letter. I thank you and I bid you a much pleasant hasta manana.

ASTOUNDING ANALYSIS
To the Editor:

The enclosed figures and message were received in a letter from Assemblyman E. Richard Barnes. They are astounding, to say the least.

"A subject of great importance to all Californians is Governor Brown's 1965-66 budget and tax program. The proposed budget exceeds $4,000,000,000, and the tax program involves a new tax for everyone.

"As in 1963, the Governor is pushing for a withholding tax, while many members of the Legislature are properly interested in easing the burden on property taxpayers, and in finding a way to improve the California business climate. In this latter connection, it is frequently suggested that the business inventory tax be eliminated.

"The Revenue and Taxation Committee, of which I am a member, will probably develop a committee approach to the subject of taxes involving major tax reforms and also tax increases in some areas. I shall not support a withholding tax, but will support sound property and business inventory tax reform provisions.

"The Legislative Analyst, the Legislature's fiscal expert, has recommended over $41,000,000 on reductions in the Governor's budget. In this connection, it is interesting to note a comparison developed by the Analyst showing the growth of California expenditures from 1945 to 1966. Here are some significant figures from the study:

"Population (1945) — 8,303,000; (1966) — 18,778,000; Increase — 126%.

"State Employees (1945) — 39,500; (1966) — 153,143; Increase — 278%.

"State Expenditures (1945)—$306,490,000; (1966) — $4,011,628,000; Increase — 1,208%.

"Per Capita Expenditures (1945) — $36.91; (1966)—$213.63 Increase — 478%."

I am sending them along to you with the thought that they may be useful in your editorials. The people should know these facts and be given the opportunity to protest.

With Ace Bushnell

Lexicographer Noah Webster has defined "telephone" as "an instrument for reproducing sounds, especially articulate speech, at a distance."

There may be a story of some import in this fact alone inasmuch as Alexander Graham Bell didn't get around to inventing what I define as "an instrument of the devil" until 1876, some 33 years after Webster had crossed the Great Divide. But I haven't had a chance to research that remarkable Websterian feat as yet.

I am more particularly concerned with the telephone and its jarring effects on our lives in 1965. And admittedly I have just become concerned since Gordon Crockett found himself fit to be tied by a typically infuriating telephonic experience several days ago.

Subconciously, I have always detested Bell's creation, but it took ad man Crockett to bring my wrath to the fore. He told me a true tale of calling a client and contacting him immediately by phone, then crossing the street to pick up copy from the same man and cooling his heels in an outer office for 20 minutes.

"The blasted telephone has never been placed in proper perspective," he lamented.

Thinking over the wisdom of Crockett's observation, I suddenly realized that people really are intimidated by the awful instrument. When the phone rings, they drop everything else to answer it. Merchants walk away from prospective customers to answer, though they may have no idea who is calling them. Businessmen interrupt big deals to listen to wifely whims transmitted via the evil lines.

Personally, I have nothing against the many individuals who work for phone companies. In fact, I have even developed a certain liking for some of them, which is quite an accomplishment in view of my dislike for The Thing they represent.

I must confess I'm no happier with telephonic conditions in the West End than I was wherever else I've been. It seems to me the phone folks here may deserve an "E" for effort, but they're simply pressing too hard. Conditions are pretty miserable.

Whoever heard of dialing the long-distance operator to buzz a neighbor across the street, or even in Etiwanda or Fontana or Montclair? And why must it be so difficult to gain information regarding unknown numbers in other towns, and why different schemes and sounds in practically every telephone booth?

I'm fed to the teeth with Bell's clever monster, and I honestly don't believe my attitude stems from Don Ameche's portrayal of the Frankenstein of phonedom way, way back. Of course, that unmemorable motion picture didn't improve my state of mind.

I have become disenchanted for a number of reasons, like "extra" charges for receivers of different colors and different weights. Like guests sneaking long-distance calls at my expense and relatives making collect calls under false pretenses. Like my wife throwing a phone at me — and me forgetting it was blessed with a 25-foot extension.

The telephone has its virtues, I suppose, such as hearing Mom's voice on Mother's Day or summoning a doctor when an emergency arises or advising the boss you're sick in bed and can't get to work. But does the good overshadow the bad?

I think not. Webster, for instance, managed without a telephone and his message came through loud and clear. Maybe Mom wasn't called on Mother's Day, but there wasn't a Mother's Day — and, anyway, I'm told families were a lot more close-knit then.

Before Crockett called the seriousness of the situation to my attention (and not by phone, mind you), I had begun a quiet, one-man rebellion. I had neglected to have a receiver installed in our Upland apartment, despite the protestations of my wife, my mother-in-law and my publisher. And I won't be compromised!

Life is much pleasanter without a home phone, and I don't think the bedroom looks any draber for lack of a pink Princess. Calls from irate readers are restricted to business hours at the office, those wrong-number interruptions at 2 in the morning are eliminated and I finish each month with one less bill.

If I can't avoid making a call, and that doesn't occur often, believe me, my diet benefits from the forced march to the nearest phone booth. I haven't conquered the claustrophobia experienced within the booth confines, but I'm doing better all the time.

I guess I can't help that feeling of inner satisfaction which grips me as I contemplate how I'm getting even with my sneakier relatives, those rude merchants, Alexander Graham Bell and Don Ameche in a lone nonconformist movement.

UNPRECEDENTED PRESIDENTS' PHOTO: Ten of the 11 presidents of Upland Kiwanis Club, present and past, still live in the area and participate in club affairs, and all 10 were on hand recently for this exclusive NEWS picture. From left to right, they are Herschel Glenn (1964), George Brannan (1954-55), Mark Alexander (1962), Ray Anderson (1961), Alex McLeish (1958), Robert Erickson (1963), Leslie Standlea (1960), John Nicholson (1957), Robert Miller (1959) and Dale Genung (1965). Eight Coeds Initiated By TEP Society

Eight second-year coeds were initiated into the Chaffey College women's honor society, Tau Epsilon Pi, in a ceremony Sunday at the little theater on campus.

The initiation was conducted by Tau Epsilon Pi alumnae and the ceremony was followed by a reception for the new members. Parents, relatives and friends attended.

Membership in the society, instituted in 1931, is based on scholarship, leadership and character. This year's members were selected by the Tau Epsilon Pi reviewing committee from 25 candidates.

The new Upland members are Carolyn Gin, Karen Greene, Dianne Hamilton and Virginia Randles.

On 50th Birthday Of International Club

Upland Kiwanians Say 'Thanks'

In this, the Golden Anniversary Year of Kiwanis International, the 78 members of the Upland Kiwanis Club have joined together to thank the community for the privilege of serving.

"The Kiwanis Club of Upland is extremely proud of its record of accomplishment during its first 10 years," Dale Genung, president, said today. "It is particularly proud of the international recognition given the club in 1962 and 1963."

Genung went on to pinpoint a few of the typical projects for which the club has been responsible during its brief but significant local history:

* Hawkins Field.
* Annual Senior Citizens Christmas Party.
* Organization of Fun After Fifty Club.
* Annual Swimming Meet.
* Improvements at Circle B Scout Ranch.
* Improvements at Conifer Girl Scout Camp.
* Sponsorship of Boy Scout Troop 608.
* Sponsorship of Upland High School Key Club.
* Joint Sponsorship of Chaffey College Circle K Club.
* Lights for Children's Library.
* Tree Planting.
* Camperships for Underprivileged Children.

"None of these worthy efforts could have been accomplished without the wonderful community support of our fund-raising activities," the Kiwanis leader stressed. "Our next one coming up is the annual Rummage Sale Friday and Saturday, May 14 and 15."

DOCTOR HONORED

Dr. Thomas A. Gibson, 1480 N. Euclid Ave., Upland, was installed April 26 as a director of Salerni Collegium, support group for the University of Southern California School of Medicine, at an annual dinner at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles.

Objectives Of Kiwanis International

To give primacy to the human and spiritual, rather than to the material values of life.

To encourage daily living of the Golden Rule in all human relationships.

To promote the adoption and application of higher social, business and professional standards.

To develop, by precept and example, a more intelligent, aggressive and serviceable citizenship.

To provide through Kiwanis Clubs a practical means to form enduring friendships, to render altruistic service and to build better communities.

To cooperate in creating and maintaining that sound public opinion and high idealism which makes possible the increase of righteousness, justice, patriotism and good will.

TWO WAYS TO TREAT YOUR NEIGHBORS

The Great Wall around China—traditional symbol of contention between nations.

A typical highway crossing on the boundary between the United States and Canada.

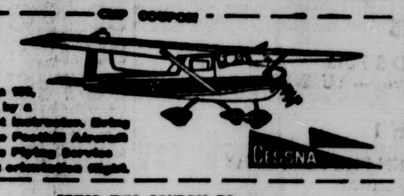

For more than 500 years, the 1500 mile Great Wall around China has been a symbol of international fear, distrust and misunderstanding.

In dramatic contrast—the 3000 mile border between the United States and Canada has been unfortified for 148 years. The scene above pictures a lonely boundary post and a Kiwanis International Peace Marker.

Canada-United States Goodwill Week, April 25 to May 1, commemorates the signing of the Rush-Bagot Agreement which demilitarized this long border that the late Sir Winston Churchill described as "an example to every country and a pattern for the future of the world."

Kiwanis International, which celebrates its 50th anniversary this year, is proud of its contribution to the peaceful neighborliness which exists between the United States and Canada.

Profit Sharing FundGrows Fast At Sears

Sears, Roebuck and Co. employes in the Pomona Valley area learned this past week that they have $3,707,675 in their profit sharing pension fund.

This was disclosed by Richard D. Meriwether, general manager of Sears stores here, at a meeting of employe-members of the fund. The fund members received statements showing how they shared in Sears profits last year and the value of their individual accounts.

Meriwether said the 362 local fund members had 24,965 shares of Sears stock and other securities amounting to $480,949 credited to their accounts as of Dec. 31, 1964.

The local employe-members are among 158,500 men and women across the nation who are members of the Savings and Profit Sharing Pension Fund of Sears, Roebuck and Co. Employes. These members include more than 15,000 employes of Allstate Insurance Co., a wholly-owned subsidiary which each year contributes to Sears profits.

Meriwether pointed out that the value of the accounts of individual employes showed a marked increase in 1964. He also noted that the total assets of the fund at market value rose more than $500 million to a total of $2,654,800,000 as of Dec. 31, the end of the fund's fiscal year.

This gain was the result of a larger company contribution from 1964 profits, increased investment income and appreciation in the value of the fund's stock holdings.

Of the fund's total assets, Meriwether said, approximately $231.5 million represents the deposits of members from their wages and salaries. The balance — $2.4 billion — resulted from company contributions, investment income, and appreciation in value of the fund's investments.

The employes' fund, Sears' largest shareholder, held 18 million shares, or nearly 24 per cent, of the company's stock at the end of 1964. In addition to this large investment in Sears stock, the fund's assets also are invested in the stock of more than 100 companies and in other types of securities.

Created in 1916, the fund is designed to encourage regular savings, enable Sears employes to share in company profits, and aid members in establishing a financial reserve for retirement. All regular employes who have completed one year of service are eligible to join the fund.

Employe-members of the fund deposit five per cent of their wages and salaries, up to a maximum of $500 each year. The company contributes a portion of its consolidated income before provision for Federal income taxes. The company contribution is credited to member's accounts annually on a formula based on their age, length of service and deposits.

Frank Lesinsky 'Boss Of Year'

New "Boss of the Year" for Pomona Chapter, National Secretaries Association, is Frank J. Lesinsky, plant manager at Otis Elevator Co. in Cucamonga.

He and his secretary, Mrs. Edith F. Gittins, were presented with awards as "Boss and Secretary of the Year" by John Jones and Mrs. Wanda Fosdick CP, who held these titles during the last year. Presentation was made at the chapter's 10th annual Executive Night Banquet, held last week at Diamond Bar Country Club.

Mrs. Virginia Pedley was chairman of this event at which chapter members entertained the executives for whom they work.

DOROTHY BALL

Dorothy Ball Has A Ball, Is On Ball

A psychiatric technician at Pacific State Hospital in Pomona has been designated Chaffey College's woman of the month of April.

She is Dorothy Ball, a student from Claremont whose objective is a career in psychiatric nursing and who is sophomore nursing class president.

Last semester, Miss Ball was activities director of Kappa Sigma Nu, a student nurse society. For the past year, her grade point average has earned her a place on the dean's list.

Miss Ball has been a Pacific State employee for the past seven years, and this hospital sponsors her participation in the Chaffey College nursing program.

As a Chaffey graduate nurse, she will continue her career at Pacific, take the state board R. N. examination in October and eventually specialize in psychiatric nursing.

Miss Ball received her Associate of Arts degree in business education from Mt. SAC in 1959.

Spring Spruce-Up Can Be Good For You As Well As Your Home

Suddenly, it's spring.

The symptoms are classic—and benign. Everything in nature is emerging from hibernation, and so are you.

For the birds, the bees and the bears, it is a season of replenishment after a long famine.

Consider the bear. All through the winter, he has slept in a cave. When he wakes in the spring, he is thin and flabby.

While you didn't exactly sleep the winter away, you didn't starve either. So it's more than likely — given the combination of heavy winter eating and little exercise—that you're flabby, all right: fat and flabby.

Before you plunge headlong into a strenuous workout to work off the bulges, heed these words of advice from the San Bernardino County Heart Association.

Why not start by getting a complete physical examination? You feel fine, you say? If your doctor confirms that statement, you're off to a good start. If something is wrong—weight, blood pressure, blood cholesterol too high — early detection and prompt treatment can put you back on the road to good health.

A regular checkup is the first step recommended by heart specialists for men who are in the age brackets when coronary disease becomes a major threat — say, age 35 and over. Regular physical examinations are helpful in spotting early changes. They open the way to treatment which can reduce the risk of serious trouble.

Even after you've been given a clean bill of health by your doctor, it is wiser to work up gradually to strenuous activity — be it work or play—after a long sedentary layoff, the San Bernardino County Heart Association says.

Don't try to cram all the big jobs around the house into the first balmy weekend, and then top them off with a fast game of tennis. Get into action by walking and doing some of the easier gardening chores at first. When you're in better condition, the bigger jobs won't overtax your muscles — and that includes your heart muscle.

This way your spring spruce-up can work two ways: you and your home will both be the better for it.

Continued Southland and statewide growth was confirmed when an 8% increase in revenue from sales and use taxes was announced this week by Richard Nevins, Southern California member of the State Board of Equalization.

Approximately $298 million local sales and use taxes were distributed to cities and counties for the fiscal year ended March 31. This figure is 8% greater than the $276 million collected at this time last year, Nevins said.

The eight Southern California counties and their cities received 59% of the total, or some $175 million, up 9% from March 31, 1964.

Based on statistics released by the Board of Equalization's Research Unit, the anticipated revenues will be even greater for the 1965-66 fiscal year, Nevins continued. The proposed amount for San Bernardino County is $9,482,000, which reflects a 12.0% gain over the comparable figure for 1965.

Nevins pointed out that these revenues are collected at nominal cost for the local jurisdictions simultaneously with the state sales tax.

Cost to the cities and counties approximates 1-½%, Nevins observed, and is considerably more efficient than the system used in the years before 1956 when each entity maintained its own collection unit.

These statistical forecasts are prepared annually by the Board of Equalization and submitted to local finance offices as a guide in budget preparation.

'Feather River Project' Explained To GOP Group

California's State Water Project, commonly known as "The Feather River Project," was the subject of a talk presented recently to Republican Women at their regular April luncheon meeting.

Ray Ferguson, longtime Republican worker and member of the Chino Basin Water District, introduced Kenneth Wilkes, chief of the Design and Construction Branch of the State of California Department of Water, and Don Brooks, of the Metropolitan Water District, from Los Angeles.

An informative film showing progress of construction on the 660-mile-long pipe line, pumping plants and reservoir system was presented by Wilkes. Water will be brought on this main artery to the Castaic and Perris Reservoirs. The system is to be completed in 1972 and will deliver two million acre-feet a year to take care of the projected population until 1990. He said 49% of the water will come to Southern California.

Brooks followed this up with large charts and relief maps of the main artery of the water system and an explanation of how the 26 agencies of the Metropolitan Water District must arrange for the distribution of the water, treatment plants and delivery to underground basins for local areas.

Mrs. Robert L. Walker presented the program.

Prior to the luncheon hour, Mrs. R. L. Herzog, immediate past president of the San Bernardino Federation of Republican Women, spoke on Republican policy and platform. The study group also listened to a tape by Rep. Charles S. Gubser entitled "The Battle for Asia."

Mrs. Frank Richards moderated the study hour. Mrs. C. E. Mitchell, president of the Chaffey Community Federated Republican Women, presided over the luncheon meeting. The pledge of allegiance was led by Mrs. R. Fred Price and the invocation was given by Mrs. Frank Hutchinson.

Nine members attended the County meeting of the Federated Republican Women Clubs, held at El Rancho Verde Country Club in Rialto on April 23. Among those present were Mmes. Mitchell, Walker, Price, Thomas Parker, E. J. Close, Jr., C. E. Reimers, William Jones, Grace Brown and Rose Breaux.

Edison Co. Wins Award For Area Ad

Medallion Home and area development advertising placed by Southern California Edison Co. in Southland newspapers has won international honors in the Public Utilities Advertising Association's 1965 Better Copy Contest, C. G. Shores, Edison local manager, announced this past week.

Edison's award-winning Medallion entry was in the famed advertising contest's No. 1 category: "a complete advertising program using three or more media."

The program Edison entered in the competition was a coordinated salvo including newspaper and magazine advertising plus customer bill inserts and other material — all telling the advantages of total-electric living, Shores said.

Edison's winning area development ads were run in all zone editions of the WALL STREET JOURNAL and, with local copy added, in other newspapers within the electric company's service area.

The contest awards will be formally presented to Edison as a highlight of the PUAA's annual convention, scheduled June 16-18 in Atlantic City.

About 500 companies throughout the United States and in a number of foreign countries are members of the PUAA. Over the last nine years, Edison has won 23 awards in various classifications of the advertising competition, the company official said.

'Hire A Veteran Week' Tells Important Story

"Hire a Veteran Week" will begin May 9 and continue through May 15 in San Bernardino County, Herbert McFall, chairman of the West End Veterans Employment Committee, and John Calderas, manager of the Ontario local office, California State Employment Service, have announced.

The annual observance has been endorsed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown and by the San Bernardino Board of Supervisors.

Slightly less than two and a half million veterans of the armed services now live in California, according to McFall, constituting approximately one-third of the State's labor force.

He quoted figures from the local Employment Service that approximately 212,000 veterans had registered for work in employment services throughout the State in 1964, some 1,692 in the Ontario area alone.

"That means an awful lot of veterans looking for work," McFall said, adding that he would underscore the comment of Gov. Brown in his endorsement of the annual "Hire a Veteran Week" that "the State and the Nation cannot afford to lose the services of these war veterans who through their service to our country earned an opportunity to continue in gainful employment."

McFall pointed out that, by placing job orders with the Ontario local office, employers have the benefit of exposing themselves to the largest file of qualified job applicants in the community labor market, with all applicants classified occupationally on the basis of aptitudes, education, training, skills and work experience.

Professor Is CBEA Head

A Chaffey College professor of accounting and insurance has been named president of the California Business Education Association for the school year of 1965-66.

He is Ralph J. E. Newton, a faculty member of the business education division here for the past 11 years and CBEA vice president for the current school year.

Newton's previous CBEA posts were state publicity chairman and southern area president.

He is also executive secretary of the southern region of the California Junior College Association. He is California Teachers Association council member and active in the California Council of Vocational Education.

Prior to his affiliation with Chaffey, Newton was business manager at San Joaquin Delta College at Stockton.

Ontario Man New Shutterbug Chief

Howard A. Cramer of Ontario is the new president of the Euclid Avenue Camera Club, succeeding Theodore R. Hudson of Claremont.

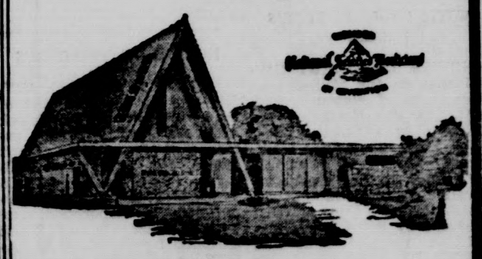

Other club officers for 1965-66, installed at an annual dinner meeting held recently at the American Legion Clubhouse in Ontario, are Mrs. Marion Miller, vice-president; Mr. and Mrs. William Wright, corresponding secretaries; Mrs. Brian Journeaux, recording secretary; Thayer Peters, treasurer; and Clarence Scott, Miss Evelyn Loew and Harry Adams, directors.

An audience of 72 persons watched installation ceremonies conducted by William F. Martens of San Bernardino, president of the Wind and Sun Council of Camera Clubs.
